School Reform Heads Agenda Of Lawmakers

LANSING (AP) — The 75th Michigan Legislature ends a two-month recess and reconvenes for a fall session to be devoted to Gov. William Milliken's education reform legislation.

Both chambers meet at 8 p.m. Milliken — who acknowledges it could be Christmas before much of his proposals are adopted — is to address a joint session on Thursday to spell out details of proposals outlined earlier by his education reform commission.

Leftovers Topic

But when House Speaker William A. Ryan, D - Detroit, and Senate President Pro Tem

Thomas Schweigert, R-Petoskey, gavel the two chambers back to order tonight, leftovers will be the order of business.

Among the debris of the summer's final session which began at 10 a.m. July 17 and ended 18 hours later were 21 bills. Passed by both chambers, but in different form, they were left among half-filled paper cups of vending machine coffee, overflowing ashtrays and hundreds of other bills that were scuttled or voted into a legislative "deep-freeze" until January.

Temporary Quarters

But bills are not the only matters being shuffled. Renovation of third and fourth floor offices has forced a contingent of GOP representatives to find temporary quarters in a nearby school.

The State Supreme Court and State Law Library also have been moved out. Only Chief Justice Thomas E. Brennan, smarting from what he considered a somewhat peremptory evacuation notice, is holding onto one office in the Capitol's third floor.

"We're not some ding-a-long department to be shoved around," Brennan complained. "We're not about to hold court on a street corner."

Brennan Second Choice

But Brennan, too, may go. If former Gov. George Romney passes up the challenge of running for the U.S. Senate next year against Democratic incumbent Philip A. Hart, Brennan is considered a strong substitute.

The logjammed issues the two chambers are to work on until Milliken's bills are introduced and studied by committees represent months of frustration and deadlock.

One measure, introduced by Detroit Rep. Jackie Vaughn, James Bradley and Daisy Elliott, proposes to elect Detroit councilmen from single-member districts instead of at general city wide elections.

Introduced formally on Jan. 9, the bill passed the House by an 81-19 vote April 23.

District Apportionment

The upper chamber's version would require district apportionment to be handled by the Wayne County supervisors. The House version called for that to be done by a committee of the Detroit city clerk, recorder and treasurer.

A controversial proposal to substitute Michigan's unique, one-man grand jury with a citizen panel operating under streamlined rules also is pending.

Introduced by Rep. J. Robert Trexler, D - Bay City, the bill would allow a judge to grant immunity to a witness testifying.

Peace Breakthrough Reportedly Nearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's chief spokesman in the Senate, Republican Leader Hugh Scott, has indicated a breakthrough may be in the offing in the search for peace in Vietnam.

Although he provided no details, Scott answered "yes, it is possible" when asked Sunday if the both sides might be approaching a de facto cease fire. The Pennsylvania gave the same answer when asked if Nixon "might be on the verge of something right now."

Some Things Happening
"I cannot tell you where there will be solid news, but there are some things happening," Scott said.

He was interviewed on the CBS radio-television program "Face the Nation."

But in a separate interview, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said he knew of nothing that was about to be revealed by the Nixon administration on the Vietnam situation. He also backed up Nixon's refusal to be swayed by antiwar protests.

Exhortation Ruled Out
The President "cannot respond to the exhortation if he is convinced that that exhortation is based on illogics, simply because there are large numbers of people in a country of 200 million are still a small percentage of the citizens," he said. Agnew said the United States has made many unsuccessful efforts to bring about peace.

"I can't point to anything specific," Agnew said. "I can only say the President is moving in all ways possible to reach an amicable solution to this terrible conflict."

He was interviewed on ABC's program "Issues and Answers." Agnew's and Scott's comments came as Congress appeared to be preparing for increased debate on Vietnam policy.

Fullbright Top Pusher
Chief protagonist for stepping up the public debate is Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., whose Foreign Relations Committee has scheduled five days of hearings on a bill to get all U.S. troops out of Vietnam by Dec. 1, 1970.

"The President has stated an intention to extricate the United States from the war," said Fulbright. "The Senate should give thorough study to all policy alternatives for achieving that objective."

Scott has called for a moratorium on criticism about administration Vietnam policy.

If war opponents "could be quiet for about 60 days, the President may well have some things to show the American people," Scott said.

Dr. Ira Polley Resigns From Education Post

Board Members Hit For Wild Accusations

LANSING (AP) — Ira Polley quit as Michigan's superintendent of public instruction, today, charging that the State Board of Education had not done the job it was created for.

Polley, whose ouster had been sought by several members of the board, which hired him in 1966, accused some of circulating "falsehoods and half-truths" and of making "wild accusations" about public figures.

He did not name the members. Board member James O'Neil of Livonia, who had led the fight to dump Polley, declined comment on the resignation.

Polley said there had been pressure for him to buck Gov. William Milliken's educational reform proposals and to declare that an elective board is a good way to administer state education.

"I have been asked in recent days by several members of the State Board of Education to issue a formal statement to the effect that an elective state board such as we now have is a good means of governing our public educational structure," Polley said in his resignation statement.

"This I cannot, in good conscience, do," Polley declared. Board Abolishment Asked
Gov. Milliken, in a recently announced education reform proposal, called for abolishment of the elective board as a means of centralizing control of education in Michigan.

He said the eight members of the board "are nominated almost as an afterthought by both political parties, brought into office on the tide of presidential or gubernatorial elections, forced to function in a political unit which may be partisan and given only limited powers to fulfill the requirements of their office."

"With such handicaps the board is bound to fail," Milliken said. "And fall it has as an effective governing body."

Milliken, en route to Lansing from his Traverse City home when Polley announced his resignation, had no immediate comment.

Wishes Polley Well
O'Neil, the board treasurer said he wished Polley well in future endeavors but declined further comment. He said a special meeting has been scheduled for Wednesday to consider "the formidable task ahead of us."

At previous board meetings, O'Neil failed to have Polley ousted on a 4-4 vote and was himself suggested for censure by fellow board members. The censure motion failed on a 4-3 vote with one member absent.

O'Neil blasted Polley early in July for allowing the State Department of Education to release a series of sex-education guidelines which the Livonia Republican termed the result of

"misjudgment, incompetence or duplicity."

Refuses To Back Down

O'Neil refused to back down on his statement.

"While the system advocated by Gov. Milliken in his educational reform proposals may not be the only answer," Polley said in quitting, "His statement as to the failure of the present system is eloquent, factual and states precisely why I am unable to support this board."

Milliken would replace the board with one man, an appointee.

Polley said any accomplishments made by the board in its four and one-half years "have largely been through the cooperation of a dedicated state civil service and a deeply committed educational community at the local and intermediate level."

Reckless Disregard

A third reason he gave for his resignation, Polley said, was that "Especially in recent months and days, certain members of the board have acted with reckless disregard for the public interest."

"A parochial bloc on the board has devoted zealous attention to the private sector of education," Polley said. The said, "The constitutional mandate to the board is that it shall exercise leadership and general supervision over all public education."

Dr. Peter Oppewall of Grand Rapids, board president, said the timing of Polley's resignation "surprised me somewhat," but quickly denied Polley's accusation that there is a parochial bloc on the board.

"This board has devoted a very small fraction of its time to the private sector," Oppewall said. "I don't think there's been a vote he can point to that would identify what he calls the parochial bloc."

Replacement Sought

Oppewall said the board would attempt to replace Polley as soon as possible, but gave no indication of a likely choice.

The board president said Polley's complaint that the board has failed to carry out its constitutional mandate was an indirect way of saying the superintendent failed to do his job.

Cuban Flies MIG To Florida Base

HOMESTEAD AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP) — A Russian-made MIG17 fighter plane piloted by a defecting Cuban officer landed Sunday near President Nixon's Air Force One jetliner.

As Nixon relaxed 30 miles away at his Key Biscayne retreat, the pilot set the Korean War vintage plane down on the base's only runway at 12:25 p.m. EDT.

Air Force One stood on an apron being readied for the President's return to Washington.

The little jet was picked up by radar 30 miles east of Key West, a Defense Department spokesman said. Military sources declined to say whether U.S. planes were sent to intercept it or whether its cannon and machine guns were loaded.

The Cuban defector asked and was granted asylum. His name was not disclosed.

The U.S. State and Defense departments said in Washington that the Czechoslovakian Embassy was asked to inform Cuban authorities that the plane would be made available for return to Cuba. The United States and Cuba have broken diplomatic relations.

The dull gray plane was searched by military officials and placed under police guard in a hangar on the base. It bore the number 232, a Cuban flag, and carried red stars on its wings and tail.

Gerald L. Warren, deputy press secretary to the President, said Nixon was kept informed of the situation.

A pair of Cuban citizens escaped the island in 1968 in a crop-dusting plane, landing in Florida. One of the men, Santiago Mendez Acosta, died in another crop duster seven years later while working over an Alabama field. His aircraft struck a power line.

UN Aid Sought In Highjackings

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — (AP) — Eleven countries are requesting the U.N. General Assembly to ask all nations to outlaw aerial hijacking.

In a letter today to Secretary-General U Thant, the countries asked that "piracy in the air" be added to the agenda of the assembly's current session. They sought a study of legal measures that governments might adopt against a "growing menace to commercial aircraft."

They proposed a resolution calling for effective laws against seizure of aircraft in flight, punishment of hijackers, a new international convention against air piracy and compliance with the 1963 Tokyo convention "relating to the prompt release of passengers, crews and aircraft."

Countries sponsoring the resolution are the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg, Canada, New Zealand, Lesotho, the Malagasy Republic, the Philippines, Argentina, the Dominican Republic and Ecuador.

Interested diplomats said the assembly probably will agree this week to take up the question although there may be some abstentions.

They speculated that the Soviet Union would argue that an assembly debate is unnecessary because the International Civil Aviation Organization in Montreal is working on the problem.

Jackie Uses Judo On Photographer?

NEW YORK (AP) — A newspaper photographer says Jacqueline Onassis flipped him to the sidewalk with a judo hold after he took her picture outside the movie theater showing "I Am Curious (Yellow)," the Swedish sex film.

Mel Finkelstein of the New York Daily News said Sunday night that Mrs. Onassis "grabbed my right wrist ... put her leg out and flipped me over her thigh."

But the doorman of Cinema 57 Rendezvous on West 57th Street said Finkelstein slipped while taking a picture of the former Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

Neither Mrs. Onassis nor a family spokesman could be reached for comment.

Finkelstein and other photographers were waiting in the lobby of the theater because the management had notified the news media that Mrs. Onassis and her husband, Aristotle, were viewing the film, after arriving in separate cars.

1 Chair Vacant As High Court Opens Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court opens a busy term today with a new chief justice while a fight rages in the Senate over the man picked to fill the vacant chair to his extreme left.

The new chief, Warren E. Burger, and seven holdover justices face decisions on such controversial matters as churches' tax exemptions, use of the death penalty, the priority drafting of war protesters and the rights of Negroes and the underprivileged.

But following tradition, the opening session is brief and really with little substance. About 75 lawyers are admitted to practice and Burger and his colleagues adjourn to a week-long series of private conferences on about 600 appeals that have piled up since last Spring.

The first round of decisions—hundreds of them—will be announced next Monday.

Figuratively at least, the justices are looking over their shoulders to the Senate where President Nixon's nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth is in serious trouble.

Haynsworth, picked by Nixon and Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell in August to succeed Abe Fortas, has run into rigid opposition from labor, liberal and civil rights groups. Some of them have accused the federal appeals court judge of unethical judicial behavior, an allegation that takes on deeper meaning since it was an ethics flap that brought about Fortas' resignation last May.

The Senate Judiciary Committee meets Wednesday, possibly for an initial vote. The nomination appears to have the support of most conservative Republicans and Democrats, but liberals and moderates have been asserting their opposition in growing numbers.

Whatever happens, it is undoubted that the court will have to operate with a vacancy for at least several weeks.

Burger, 62, is the 15th man to occupy the center chair in the Court's 179 year history. He takes over for Earl Warren, who was chief justice for 16 years.

President Will Be Target If 'Kids' Do Their Thing

By JOSEPH E. MONRAT

WASHINGTON (AP) — Those "kids" are at it again, doing their Vietnam thing, and it may be that President Nixon will witness this month the most massive concerted blast of popular dissent ever directed at an American president.

Enthusiasm Tripled
The President said it wouldn't affect him any, thereby tripling their enthusiasm for the task.

They're a year older now, these young ones who worked for Bobby Kennedy and were thwarted by a bullet, who slaved for Gene McCarthy and were beaten back by orthodoxy.

They're a year wiser, a year better organized, and they've saved their mailing lists and marked well who their friends were in 1968, the year they refuse to forget.

And they are fired by a conviction that, unlike 1968, the weight of public opinion is on their side when they say it's time for Nixon to bring the troops home. All the troops. Now.

Moratorium Committee
They are the Vietnam Moratorium Committee and its thousands of supporters recruited across the land for the first day of moratorium—Wednesday, the 11th of October 1969.

If all goes well, they hope history will record that day as a watershed in participatory democracy, a turning point in their country's philosophy of world leadership. They want it to be the day the people stood up and made something happen. If it works, they will give much credit to Nixon himself, who at 12:10 p.m. Friday, Sept. 27, defied them by declaring at his news conference: "Under no circumstances whatever will I be affected by it."

Mail, Money Fear In

The mail and money pouring into the shabby Washington headquarters of the committee have nearly tripled since that presidential statement.

"We couldn't believe he'd say that," said David Hawk, 26-year-old co-coordinator of the moratorium, speaking in barely concealed exultation. "But we couldn't have asked for more. The people didn't like that."

He waved a pale hand around the cluttered, frenetic office. Girls in long hair and short skirts, young men in long hair and short beards, sitting on cardboard cartons, opening stacks of envelopes. Their work table was piled with currency and checks—for amounts ranging from $1 to $500.

Out Of Bottoms

"My God, we're out of Bottoms!" someone yelled from a back room, as requests poured in for the blue badges with the white dove and "Work for Peace October 15."

Hawk, a Cornell graduate and All-America swimmer now awaiting trial for refusing draft induction, emphasized that "October 15 is not just a day of activity, an event in itself, but the beginning of an escalating process."

The committee intends to follow up the first moratorium day with two days in November and three days in December.

Campus Support Seen

It began as a campus movement, and after a summer of feverish organization, the committee feels sure now of well-organized support on some 600 campuses in every state of the union.

But now the movement has spread beyond campuses. Committees of lawyers, doctors, clergymen, businessmen and housewives are springing up, says Hawk, to spread the word throughout the citizenry at large.

The committee is urging businessmen to offer employees the day off, and to shut down if possible—a "moratorium on business-as-usual to allow concerned citizens to spend that day participating in antiwar programs in their local community."

Objective Stressed

72 Bases, Towns Shelled By Reds

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese made their heaviest rocket and mortar attacks in more than a month over the weekend, shelling 72 allied bases and towns, the U.S. Command said today.

Thirty-one of the 72 attacks reported between 8 a.m. Saturday and 8 a.m. Monday caused casualties or damage, headquarters said. Fifteen of the attacks were against U.S. units or installations.

The U.S. Command said 10 Americans were wounded. Incomplete reports said six Vietnamese were killed and about 35 were wounded.

The attacks were the heaviest since Sept. 12-13, when a total of 86 shellings were reported.

Official sources said the enemy level of activity has been higher in recent weeks than during previous lull periods this year, although the number of American battlefield deaths is down. But they added that significant enemy ground attacks are still very few.

"Small unit contacts are stying up well above the 40s," said one source. "Last week they averaged 40 a day and the week before 55 a day. During previous lull periods in August they were down around an average of 40 a day."

American forces killed 53 enemy troops in four clashes north-west of Saigon with no U.S. losses, headquarters said.

School Reform Heads Agenda Of Lawmakers

LANSING (AP) — The 75th Michigan Legislature ends a two-month recreation and research recess tonight when it reconvenes for a fall session to be devoted to Gov. William Milliken's education reform legislation.

Both chambers meet at 8 p.m. Milliken — who acknowledges it could be Christmas before much of his proposals are adopted — is to address a joint session on Thursday to spell out details of proposals outlined earlier by his education reform commission.

Leftovers Topic

But when House Speaker William A. Ryan, D - Detroit, and Senate President Pro Tem

Among the debris of the summer's final session which began at 10 a.m. July 17 and ended 18 hours later were 21 bills.

Passed by both chambers, but in different form, they were left among half-filled paper cups of vending machine coffee, overflowing ashtrays and hundreds of other bills that were scuttled or voted into a legislative "deep-freeze" until January.

But bills are not the only matters being shuffled. Renovation of third and fourth floor offices has forced a contingent of GOP representatives to find temporary quarters in a nearby school.

The State Supreme Court and State Law Library also have been moved out. Only Chief Justice Thomas E. Brennan, smarting from what he considered a somewhat peremptory evacuation notice, is holding onto one office in the Capitol's third floor.

Brennan Second Choice

But Brennan, too, may go. If former Gov. George Romney passes up the challenge of running for the U.S. Senate next year against Democratic incumbent Philip A. Hart, Brennan is considered a strong substitute.

The loggerhead issues the two chambers are to work on until Milliken's bills are introduced and studied by committees represent months of frustration and deadlock.

One measure, introduced by Detroit Reps. Jackie Vaughn, James Bradley and Daisy Elliott, proposes to elect Detroit councilmen from single-member districts instead of at general, city wide elections.

Introduced formally on Jan. 9, the bill passed the House by an 81-19 vote April 23.

District Apportionment

The upper chamber's version would require district apportionment to be handled by the Wayne County supervisors. The House version called for that to be done by a committee of the Detroit city clerk, recorder and treasurer.

A controversial proposal to substitute Michigan's unique, one-man grand jury with a citizen panel operating under streamlined rules also is pending.

Introduced by Rep. J. Robert Traxler, D - Bay City, the bill would allow a judge to grant immunity to a witness testifying.

Peace Breakthrough Reportedly Nearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's chief spokesman in the Senate, Republican Leader Hugh Scott, has indicated a breakthrough may be in the offing in the search for peace in Vietnam.

Although he provided no details, Scott answered "yes, it is possible" when asked Sunday if the both sides might be approaching a de facto cease fire.

The Pennsylvania gave the same answer when asked if Nixon "might be on the verge of something right now."

"Some Things Happening" "I cannot tell you where there will be solid news, but there are some things happening," Scott said.

In a separate interview, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said he knew of nothing that was about to be revealed by the Nixon administration on the Vietnam situation. He also backed up Nixon's refusal to be swayed by antiwar protests.

Exhortation Ruled Out The President "cannot respond to the exhortation if he is convinced that that exhortation is based on illogics, simply because there are large number of people, because large numbers of people in a country of 200 million are still a small percentage

Board Members Hit For Wild Accusations

LANSING (AP) — Ira Polley quit as Michigan's superintendent of public instruction, today, charging that the State Board of Education had not done the job it was created for.

Polley, whose ouster had been sought by several members of the board, which hired him in 1966, accused some of circulating "falsehoods and half-truths" and of making "wild accusations" about public figures.

He did not name the members. Board member James O'Neil of Livonia, who had led the fight to dump Polley, declined comment on the resignation.

Polley said there had been pressure for him to buck Gov. William Milliken's educational reform proposals and to declare that an elective board is a good way to administer state education.

"I have been asked in recent days by several members of the State Board of Education to issue a formal statement to the effect that an elective state board such as we now have is a good means of governing our public educational structure," Polley said in his resignation statement.

"This I cannot, in good conscience, do," Polley declared.

Board Abolishment Asked Gov. Milliken, in a recently announced education reform proposal, called for abolishment of the elective board as a means of centralizing control of education in Michigan.

He said the eight members of the board "are nominated almost as an afterthought by both political parties, brought into office on the tide of presidential or gubernatorial elections, forced to function in a political unit which may be partisan and given only limited powers to fulfill the requirements of their office."

"With such handicaps the board is bound to fail," Milliken said. "And fail it has as an effective governing body."

Milliken, en route to Lansing from his Traverse City home when Polley announced his resignation, had no immediate comment.

Wishes Polley Well O'Neil, the board treasurer said he wished Polley well in future endeavors but declined further comment. He said a special meeting has been scheduled for Wednesday to consider "the formidable task ahead of us."

At previous board meetings, O'Neil failed to have Polley ousted on a 4-4 vote and was himself suggested for censure by fellow board members. The censure motion failed on a 4-3 vote with one member absent.

O'Neil blasted Polley early in July for allowing the State Department of Education to release a series of sex-education guidelines which the Livonia Republican termed the result of

Refuses To Back Down

O'Neil refused to back down on his statement.

Polley said any accomplishments made by the board in its four and one-half years "have largely been through the cooperation of a dedicated state civil service and a deeply committed educational community at the local and intermediate level."

Reckless Disregard

A third reason he gave for his resignation, Polley said, was that "Especially in recent months and days, certain members of the board have acted with reckless disregard for the public interest."

"A parochial bloc on the board has devoted zealous attention to the private sector of education," Polley said. The said, "The constitutional mandate to the board is that it shall exercise leadership and general supervision over all public education."

Dr. Peter Oppewall of Grand Rapids, board president, said the timing of Polley's resignation "surprised me somewhat," but quickly denied Polley's accusation that there is a parochial bloc on the board.

"This board has devoted a very small fraction of its time to the private sector," Oppewall said. "I don't think there's been a vote he can point to that would identify what he calls the parochial bloc."

Replacement Sought

Oppewall said the board would attempt to replace Polley as soon as possible, but gave no indication of a likely choice.

The board president said Polley's complaint that the board has failed to carry out its constitutional mandate was an indirect way of saying the superintendent failed to do his job.

The President said it wouldn't affect him any, thereby tripling their enthusiasm for the task.

They're a year older now, these young ones who worked for Bobby Kennedy and were thwarted by a bullet, who slaved for Gene McCarthy and were beaten back by orthodoxy.

They're a year wiser, a year better organized, and they've saved their mailing lists and marked well who their friends were in 1968, the year they refuse to forget.

And they are fired by a conviction that, unlike 1968, the weight of public opinion is on their side when they say it's time for Nixon to bring the troops home. All the troops. Now.

Moratorium Committee

They are the Vietnam Moratorium Committee and its thousands of supporters recruited across the land for the first day of moratorium—Wednesday, the 15th of October 1969.

If all goes well, they hope history will record that day as a watershed in participatory democracy, a turning point in their country's philosophy of world leadership. They want it to be the day the people stood up and made something happen. If it works, they will give much credit to Nixon himself, who at 12:10 p.m. Friday, Sept. 27, defied them by declaring at his news conference: "Under no circumstances whatever will I be affected by it."

Mail, Money Pour In The mail and money pouring into the shabby Washington headquarters of the committee have nearly tripled since that presidential statement.

"We couldn't believe he'd say that," said David Hawk, 26-year-old co-coordinator of the moratorium, speaking in barely concealed exultation. "But we couldn't have asked for more. The people didn't like that."

He waved a pale hand around the cluttered, frenetic office. Girls in long hair and short skirts, young men in long hair and short beards, sitting on cardboard cartons, opened stacks of envelopes. Their work table was piled with currency and checks—for amounts ranging from $1 to $500.

Out Of Buttons "My God, we're out of Buttons!" someone wailed from a back room, as requests poured in for the blue badges with the white dove and "Work for Peace October 15."

Hawk, a Cornell graduate and All-America swimmer now awaiting trial for refusing draft induction, emphasized that "October 15 is not just a day of activity, an event in itself, but the beginning of an escalating process."

The committee intends to follow up the first moratorium day with two days in November and three days in December.

Campus Support Seen It began as a campus movement, and after a summer of feverish organization, the committee feels sure now of well-organized support on some 600 campuses in every state of the union.

But now the movement has spread beyond campuses. Committees of lawyers, doctors, clergymen, businessmen and housewives are springing up, says Hawk, to spread the word throughout the citizenry at large.

The committee is urging businessmen to offer employees the day off, and to shut down if possible—a "moratorium on business-as-usual to allow concerned citizens to spend that day participating in antiwar programs in their local community."

Objective Stressed Besides bringing pressure to bear on Nixon for a troop withdrawal, the committee is urging

Voters League Observes 50th Year Of Service

This is League of Women Voters Week in Michigan, proclaimed by Governor Milliken in recognition of the League's contributions to more responsible citizenship, government, and public affairs over a period of 50 years. This year the League of Women Voters throughout the United States and Michigan celebrates its golden anniversary.

A national, non-partisan organization, the League's main purpose is to better inform its membership on vital issues at all levels of government, and promote more interest in good government among the people in the community.

The League of Women Voters was founded in 1902, six months before women got the vote. The idea for a League was suggested by Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, a famous women's rights leader.

Although the League was founded to help women become informed voters, it was soon helping men as well as women by providing non-partisan information on candidates and issues as well as supporting specific issues it had studied and reached member agreement.

Education To Vote
Today the League is organized in 1,200 communities in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands and has over 150,000 members. On the national level its members support equality of education, employment, and housing; clean water; increased trade among nations; and aid to under-veloped countries. Before the adoption of the 19th amendment, women in Michigan had fought long and hard to win the right to vote. Their efforts had begun before 1870 when suffrage groups were formed. Having won their right to vote, the suffrage groups changed their name to the League of Women Voters and their direction toward educating women to vote.

The League soon became expert on state election and registration laws. In 1929, it was a League sponsored bill which became Michigan's permanent registration law. Beginning in 1930, the League led a campaign to end the spoils system in Michigan by setting up a merit system for state employment. The civil service amendment to the state constitution was approved in 1940. Also in 1940's the Michigan League of Women Voters was effective in the passage of the Michigan Child Labor Law.

Formed Here In 1951
League members realized, however, the primary need was for a new state constitution to replace the one drawn in 1908. They began the struggle to call a constitutional convention in 1958 and in 1962 saw the convention convene in Lansing. Michigan had a new constitution in 1963, one of the few states in the nation to accomplish this goal.

There are 40 Leagues throughout the state with a membership of approximately 4,800. The current study item on the state level is taxation and financing education. It will include a study of Michigan's tax structure as well as an evaluation of the financing of education in Michigan, preschool through community college.

The Escanaba League was organized in 1951. During the past 18 years the League has concerned itself with civic affairs. The year after the Escanaba League was formed it won an American Heritage Foundation award for outstanding performance in the "Get-Out-The-Vote" primary election campaign.

In recent years the League has studied and continues to support improvements in services to children, a sound city-manager-council government, adequate financing to meet the needs of the Escanaba Area Public Schools, and home rule for Delta County. It has also studied recreation and Bay de Noc Community College.

This fall it will begin a study of air pollution. Members chose air pollution as their local item of study at the annual meeting last spring.

More people get more news from newspapers than all other sources combined.

DAVID T. BATH, 19, of Iron Mountain, suffered neck injuries today when the car he was driving was involved in a traffic accident in Escanaba. His automobile, up against a light pole, was described by police as a total wreck. Bath's condition was unreported at St. Francis Hospital at noon today. (Daily Press Photo)

Four Drivers Are Hurt In Weekend Crashes

Auto crashes injured four men in separate traffic accidents in Delta County over the weekend, authorities report.

David T. Bath, 19, of 203 Hightt Drive, Iron Mountain, suffered neck injuries (whose seriousness was being determined in examinations at St. Francis Hospital) in an accident at 8:55 a.m. today in Escanaba.

City police said Bath was driving south on 11th St. and the other car, driven by Robert J. Saykally 40, of 636 S. 13th St., was going west on 6th Ave. S. when the accident occurred. Bath received a traffic court summons for driving too fast for conditions.

The Saykally car hit the side of Bath's car, spinning the vehicle sideways and pushing it into a street light pole.

Loss Control
A Bark River man is listed in fair condition this morning at St. Francis Hospital following a one-car mishap that occurred at 10:15 p.m. Saturday on County Rd. 589 just south of U.S. 2.

State Police said David Johnson, 38, Rte. 2, Bark River, was headed north on County Rd. 589 in Ford River Township, when he hit a curb and lost control of his car. According to troopers, Johnson went off the roadway, through a heavily wooded area, down a steep bank and came to rest on an abandoned railroad track.

Johnson was issued traffic tickets for violation of the basic speed law and no valid license plates.

A Bark River youth is also listed in fair condition this morning at St. Francis Hospital after he rolled his car while failing to negotiate a curve.

West Into Ditch
State Police reported that Paul Bowyer, 16, Rte. 1, Bark River was traveling south on County Rd. C-13 just north of County Rd. 414 when he lost control of his car, went off the roadway and into a ditch.

He was taken to St. Francis Hospital by car. No traffic summons was issued in the mishap.

A Rapid River youth was taken to St. Francis Hospital, where he was treated and released following an accident that occurred Saturday at 1:30 p.m. on U.S. 2 near Gladstone. Troopers from the Gladstone Post said James Deneau, 17, Rte. 1, Rapid River, was traveling north at a high rate of speed when he struck the rear of a car being driven by Peter Fraser, 26, Perkins.

Many Tickets
According to officers, Deneau apparently fell asleep at the wheel. He was taken to St. Francis Hospital by State Troopers, who also issued him a summons for careless driving.

Escanaba police had a busy weekend with traffic control, issuing a large number of notices for traffic violations. Summons went to:

Robert J. Rowley, 924 Washington Ave., excessive muffler noise; Steven C. Crouse, 1604 Lake Shore Drive, Gladstone, careless driving, improper starting, excessive tire noise; Paul H. Lippens, Wells, disobeying a traffic signal; Peter E. Harn, Mounted Rte., Escanaba, excessive muffler noise; Ron M. Tickle, Menominee Rte. 1, improper starting, excessive tire noise; James F. Roy, 1324 Montana, Gladstone, improper turn.

Clarence T. Wilson, Bruce A. Anderson, Gladstone Rte. 1, Thomas W. Caron, 2101 5th Ave. S., Kenneth J. Mahoney, 1100 S. 19th St., Alfred D. Lansing, 216 N. 12th St., all for speeding; Frederick A. Flodin, Escanaba Rte. 2, disobeying a traffic signal; Steven G. Bell, careless driving; and Margaret A. Niles, 1105 Lake Shore Drive, disobeying a traffic signal.

Membership Up In Flying Club

Membership in the Bay De Noc Flying Club has reached 20, according to a report released today after the group's second annual meeting. Only four more memberships are open.

New officers of the club were elected at the annual meeting. Henry Van Brussell is the new president; Donald Bresuit, Vice president; Al Huthibise, Secretary-Treasurer; Bob Slajus, maintenance officer; and Stan Bean, operations officer.

According to Van Brussell, the club works closely with Federal Aviation administration officials in the promotion of safety. The club has two aircraft available, which it rents to its members at cost. The club also sponsors a program for veterans which helps them obtain private pilots' licenses, Van Brussell noted. Family memberships in the flying club are available. Under this program, the first member pays the initiation fee and monthly dues. Any other member of the immediate family joins for half the initiation fee and pays no monthly dues. Information on the club can be obtained by calling 766-7327.

Public Invited To View Work Of Local Artists

The newly formed Escanaba area art association will meet Sunday, Oct. 12, at 2 o'clock at the Medisenter for the opening of an exhibition of paintings and drawings by artists of the area. The exhibition will be open to the public.

Mrs. John Sheslander, chairman of the show, announces that 22 artists have volunteered pictures for the exhibit. Viewers will have the opportunity to vote for their favorite work. Joe Hebert, of Photo-Offset, will present material on drawing for reproduction by the photo-offset process, and will give the artists tips on preparing their drawings for the 1959 Escanaba city calendar.

Other business will be the choosing of a name for the group, plans for an impromptu Art Fair at the Ferner's Market on Oct. 19, and plans for a November meeting.

No Charges Filed In 'Rundown' Case

SARNIA, Ont. (AP) — No charges will be filed against a Port Huron, Mich., woman who was accused of driving a car through a crowd of student demonstrators at the Blue Water Bridge last Thursday, Canadian officials say.

More than 500 Canadian students took part in the demonstration protesting the United States' nuclear test explosion in the Aleutian Islands.

One student was hospitalized and another suffered minor injuries after, police said, they were hit by a car driven by a Port Huron woman whose identity was withheld by officials. Sarnia police announced Saturday films of the incident showed no grounds for legal action against the woman.

THIS RADIOPHOTO, received in Tokyo recently, came with the caption which said it showed Chairman Mao Tse-tung, left, and Vice Chairman Lin Biao of the Chinese Communist party appearing on a balcony of the Tien An Men (Gate of Heavenly Peace) in Peking Oct. 1 in celebration of the 20th anniversary of the founding of People's Republic of China. Business Report:

American Economy Confidence Wanes

By JOHN CUNIFF
NEW YORK (AP) — From his office near Philadelphia, Albert Sindlinger listens by telephone to the sound of America's confidence in the future, particularly as it concerns the economy, and he finds it waning. For most of the 1960s the sound was of earners, spenders, eager buyers. Now he detects worry about jobs, about the stock market, about the large size of personal debts and the relatively small amounts in the bank.

Professional Surveyor
Sindlinger, a former associate of George Gallup, is a professional surveyor of the marketplace, especially noted for his accurate forecasts of automobile sales. Corporations buy his studies for they know that today's confidence foretells tomorrow's sales.

Every day for the past 13 years Sindlinger's telephone interviews have rung the phones of hundreds of Americans—all locales, all walks of life, male and female—and queried them on their plans.

Times Have Changed
Throughout the sixties, Americans generally felt they would be earning more money six months in the future, that their jobs would be secure, that business in their areas would be good and that their financial situation was satisfactory.

Sindlinger often listened to the interviews, for they are conducted in one room at his headquarters in Norwood, Pa. He could measure the optimism or worry in the voices, detect emotions, adjudge the nature of fears.

1968 Mood Recalled
His method, he claims, has been uncannily accurate in detecting the nation's mood. One night in 1968, for example, his interviews took a decided negative turn. Something obviously had unnerved Americans.

Lyndon Johnson, it seems, had just televised his State of the Union Message. He had looked old, sick and worried. Subsequent questions proved, Sindlinger claims, that this poor appearance worried Americans about the future.

The present drop in confidence, he has found, "is the first such radical drop among all groups since 1957." And if past patterns, hold, this drop foretells a sharp turnaround of the economy.

Worry About Jobs
People worried about jobs began to cut spending. They delay buying cars and they switch to cheaper cuts of meat. They adopt a recession psychology, the opposite of an inflation psychology.

During inflation people buy "now" to avoid higher prices in the future. As the recession psychology develops they save now because they might not have the money or a job tomorrow.

Should the confidence index continue to decline for another month, Sindlinger believes, the nation almost inevitably will find itself in a recession.

"For the first time in eight years I find businessmen worried," he says.

Turn Began In May
The turn in confidence began in early May. At that time the index showed signs of deteriorating, but it plunged beginning about the Fourth of July weekend. After leveling off in August, it began declining again.

One of the big reasons for the drop was found to be that more households anticipated lower income in the coming six months. Further examination showed that it was stock owners mainly who anticipated a downturn in their fortunes.

Sindlinger calls these the MPOs, or managers-proprietors-officials. They are the big stock owners, and they were expecting the worst. It came. Just two weeks later the market averaged a 10 percent drop.

Michigan Army Reserve Unit Returns Home

SAIGON (AP) — The 424th Adjutant General Co., an Army Reserve unit from Michigan, returned to the United States today, the U.S. Command announced.

Headquarters said the unit was previously scheduled to return home and is not a part of President Nixon's 35,000-man cutback to be completed by Dec. 15.

The company of more than 100 men left from Da Nang Air Base, bound for Whitman Army Air Field, Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

The unit, commanded by Capt. Melvin Hohertz of Livonia, Mich., will be inactivated at Ft. Leonard Wood and reconstituted in the Army Reserve at its home station in Livonia.

The 424th established an automatic data processing unit for the Da Nang Support Command and provided personnel services support for more than 80,000 men, the U.S. Command said.

Sindlinger, a former associate of George Gallup, is a professional surveyor of the marketplace, especially noted for his accurate forecasts of automobile sales. Corporations buy his studies for they know that today's confidence foretells tomorrow's sales.

Every day for the past 13 years Sindlinger's telephone interviews have rung the phones of hundreds of Americans—all locales, all walks of life, male and female—and queried them on their plans.

Throughout the sixties, Americans generally felt they would be earning more money six months in the future, that their jobs would be secure, that business in their areas would be good and that their financial situation was satisfactory.

Sindlinger often listened to the interviews, for they are conducted in one room at his headquarters in Norwood, Pa. He could measure the optimism or worry in the voices, detect emotions, adjudge the nature of fears.

No Charges Filed In 'Rundown' Case

SARNIA, Ont. (AP) — No charges will be filed against a Port Huron, Mich., woman who was accused of driving a car through a crowd of student demonstrators at the Blue Water Bridge last Thursday, Canadian officials say.

More than 500 Canadian students took part in the demonstration protesting the United States' nuclear test explosion in the Aleutian Islands.

One student was hospitalized and another suffered minor injuries after, police said, they were hit by a car driven by a Port Huron woman whose identity was withheld by officials. Sarnia police announced Saturday films of the incident showed no grounds for legal action against the woman.

Justice Burger Quits Mayo Post

ROCHESTER, Minn. (AP)—Warren E. Burger, chief justice of the United States, has resigned from the board of directors of the Mayo Foundation, a foundation spokesman reported. Burger, who has served as chief justice since June, had been a member of the Mayo board for ten years. The foundation has assets of over $100 million and operates the famed Mayo Clinic as well as medical education and research projects. In a letter dated Sept. 11 to Atheon Bean, board chairman of the Mayo Foundation, Burger cited the pressures and duties of his new office as the main reason for leaving the foundation. Bean, chairman of the executive committee of International Milling Co., Minneapolis, accepted Burger's resignation in a letter dated Oct. 1, the foundation spokesman said.

Business Report:

American Economy Confidence Wanes

By JOHN CUNIFF
NEW YORK (AP) — From his office near Philadelphia, Albert Sindlinger listens by telephone to the sound of America's confidence in the future, particularly as it concerns the economy, and he finds it waning. For most of the 1960s the sound was of earners, spenders, eager buyers. Now he detects worry about jobs, about the stock market, about the large size of personal debts and the relatively small amounts in the bank.

Gains And Losses

When the Michigan Employment Security Commission met in Marquette in August, its officials presented a report on "Perspectives . . . Problems . . . Prospects" of the Upper Peninsula in which a population decrease of 5,000 was projected for the U. P. between 1960 and 1970. The projection showed a 1970 population of 301,000 for the Northern Peninsula, compared with 305,362 recorded in the 1960 census.

The report indicated that out-migration, largely the loss of young people, has exceeded the natural increase (the excess of births over deaths) by a wide margin in the past decade, accounting for most of the projected decline. According to the MESC report, about 35,000 residents will have migrated to other areas since 1960, or about one person in eight.

Four counties, the report stated, would have population gains between 1960 and 1970 — Marquette, Baraga, Menominee and Ontonagon. All of the remaining 11 counties in the Upper Peninsula would register declines.

Now comes another population projection report prepared by a couple of other state agencies, the Bureau of Planning and Program Development and the Bureau of the Budget. Its conclusions are diametrically opposed to those of the MESC report. Instead of a population decrease of 5,000 for the U.P., the report of the two bureaus projects an increase of 7,000 in the region's population from 1960 to 1970. Thus, instead of having a 1970 population of 301,000 as forecast in the MESC report, the Upper Peninsula will have a population of 312,949, if the later report is accurate. That's a net difference of almost 12,000, of course.

The average citizen might well wonder (1) why it was necessary for more than one state agency to go to the expense of making population projections for the state and (2) why, since more than one study was made, the findings didn't coincide with one another in the case of the Upper Peninsula. In other words, which study is to be believed?

The two reports do agree in some respects. Both predict that Marquette County will enjoy the largest population increase of any county above the Straits. The MESC report shows Marquette County increasing in population from 56,154 in 1960 to 62,000 in 1970. The other report is even more optimistic. It has Marquette County reaching a total of 69,981 by 1970.

Both reports also agree that Baraga, Menominee and Ontonagon Counties also will register gains in 1970 over 1960 (although the MESC report gives Menominee County an increase of only 15 persons in the 10-year period, while the other report is even more stingy, allowing the Peninsula's southernmost county only five more souls in 1970 than it had a decade before).

But whereas the MESC report predicts Chippewa County will lose population (from 32,655 in 1960 to 32,500 in 1970), the other report has Chippewa County gaining substantially (from 32,655 to 36,320). This is surprising in view of the planned closing of Kincheloe Air Force Base in Chippewa County next year.

The Bureau of Planning and Program Development and the Bureau of the Budget report envisions the Upper Peninsula with a total population of 363,877 in 1990 and increase of 50,928 from 1960, and states that most of that gain would take place in Marquette and Chippewa Counties.

He came to the United States and settled in Calumet, where he worked an 85-hour week for $1 a day. Haircuts were 25 cents and shaves 15 cents in those days. He moved to Painesdale in 1911. When Teague opened his barber shop in Painesdale there were 1,200 men working in the mines and on surface. Haircuts were in demand and three barbers were kept busy in his shop. He has worked alone for the last 20 years.

EMPTY CASE

Is Marchi Top Man In New York Race?

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

The interesting thing about the New York City mayoralty election campaign is that, up to Oct. 1, no polls had been released. The reason the official Democratic nominee, Mario Anthony Procaccino, and the Republican-Conservative nominee, Mario Marchi, had not taken any really systematic scientific soundings was that they didn't have the money to do it. The incumbent Mayor, John V. Lindsay, did have the money, but if he did happen to have any interesting poll figures he wasn't releasing them.

What is the skeptic to make, then, of the item in Manhattan's Women's Wear Daily that spoke of a poll showing (as of Sept. 18) that Procaccino was leading with 38 per cent of a sample vote, Marchi in second place with 28 per cent, and John Lindsay limping in with 19 per cent? The Women's Wear disclosure (if that is the word for it) touched off an instant brouhaha, with a New York Post political reporter writing to say that the Quaysie polling organization had denied ever taking a poll for Lindsay.

Women's Wear answered that it had never attributed the poll to Quaysie — as, indeed, it hadn't. When Lindsay campaign lieutenant Richard Aurelio remonstrated with the editor of Women's Wear that the figures cited were not accurate, it could only have corroborated the existence of a poll. Women's Wear said it was willing to make a "correction" if "true figures" were supplied; otherwise it was standing by its statement, which had come from a source that had "never been misleading in the past."

So; that, at this moment of writing, is the status of the "mystery poll" that has had New York political circles buzzing with conjecture. Whether the poll is a phony, or whether it must be regarded as "the poll that leaked," it is nonetheless figuring in the strenuous politicking that has displaced New York's summer somnolescence.

We'll soon know something about the probable New York balloting pattern when NBC gets the results of its own projected poll, and when the New York Daily News swings into action with its 30,000 straw votes. But, really, do we need a poll to tell us that things are not going well for John Lindsay, the Liberal, or that John Marchi, the Republican-Conservative, has been moving ahead as the second place candidate at a time when the organization Democrat, Procaccino has been losing a bit of his once heavy lead?

Little things tell a curious story. Here we have Pete Hamill, the flaming liberal columnist of the liberal New York Post (who succeeded to liberalism Murray Kempton's space on the Post's editorial page), writing that "it is rapidly becoming clear that the most intelligent and impressive campaign being run in this town is the quiet campaign of John Marchi." Hamill hasn't said he'd vote for Marchi, but he likes Marchi's program for revising the City Charter to restore some power to the five New York Borough Presidents. (Sort of reminds Hamill of liberal Norman Mailer's primary campaign call for giving the government back to the neighborhoods on neighborhood matters.)

Then there is Jack Newfield's fundamental approving statement that John Marchi's low-keyed and good-humored style suggests that of Eugene McCarthy. Strange, isn't it, that Newfield, one of the political specialists of New York's Village Voice, who is all for the "new politics," should be saying something intended as a compliment about any Republican or any Conservative?

Anything can happen in the New York City campaign. The news magazines, which have suddenly tumbled to the fact that only 1,600,000 New Yorkers live in the Borough of Manhattan as compared to 6,400,000 who struggle for a living in Queens, Brooklyn, the Bronx, and Staten Island, have at last begun to print stories that point out John Lindsay's peril. They aren't giving it to Procaccino, who scoffs at Lindsay's "liberalism" and the Manhattan "beautiful people," but they are certainly taking him seriously.

For myself, I want to go out on one more limb. I wrote columns last spring that gave Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles a very good chance of winning his election when all the polls said that the liberal Thomas Bradley had it in the bag. I also speculated on the likelihood as I saw it, that the unknown John J. Marchi would beat Lindsay in the Republican primary. Now my feeling is that Marchi may lead both Procaccino and Lindsay in November. Lindsay is suffering from the revulsion of the middle class against the idea that it should be made to pay for everything; Procaccino is, after all, a machine candidate. Doesn't this set it up for John Marchi to play it right down the middle to another astounding victory?

Letters To The Press

SOME GOOD GUYS

We hear and read of the bad in teenagers. Now hear this about the good. If they deserve the bad publicity — they also deserve good publicity. Here is what happened in the area of the Ford River elementary school yesterday:

There are two basketball rebound boards installed in the gym area in the rear of the school and never used by the children attending. In order to get use of these boards and give the students more play-ground equipment plus an opportunity to get interest in basketball, Principal Richard Shilney suggested if they could only be placed on the black top part of the playground (put there after the boards were installed) we could have somewhat of a basketball court.

To do this we would have to dig one hole at the end of the blacktop and the other in the blacktop 50 ft. away. To do the digging in the blacktop and a foot of gravel underneath plus another foot or so of sand was a difficult task. But with the aid of 5-6 neighborhood students of the Ford River school and a handy team-ager by the name of Dave Weisert we were able to dig both holes.

With the aid of my truck we were able to drag one of the posts, about 30 ft. to the hole in the blacktop but no matter how we all tried we could not lift it up so that it would drop into the new hole. The 4" steel pipe with the board and about 3" square cement anchored to the bottom representing about 1800 pounds of weight was too much so we left it there until we could get someone with equipment to set it in for us.

This morning when I came to work (7 a.m.) there was this pole sitting upright and the hole well covered and posted down. Who did it? Mr. Shilney and I have inquired all around the neighborhood but no one knows. It had to be local teenagers driving around on the lot and it had to be at least a half-dozen or more to do the trick. Who ever they are Mr. Shilney and I would like to say thanks for your thoughtfulness. Believe me, it is appreciated. Boys will be boys and they grow some good ones around here.

The bidding:

West North East South

Pass 1♠ Pass 1♠

Pass 2♠ Pass 2♠

Pass 3♠ Pass 4♠

Opening lead—ten of spades.

This deal occurred in the U.S. — Italy match in 1966. Nothing much happened at the first table, where the American North-South pair got to four spades on the bidding shown and made five for a score of 450 points.

But at the second table, where Belladonna and Avarrell were North-South for Italy, the bidding took a peculiar turn. As the result of a razzle-dazzle performance by the American East-West pair, the Italians wound up playing the hand at two notrump, making four for only 180 points.

The bidding went: Mathe started the ball rolling when he opened with a heart on a bare 11 points, and Hamman added his contribution to the proceedings when he bid a spade over Belladonna's double.

It might appear that Avarrell should have doubled one spade in order to expose East's phony bid, but he was prevented from doing this by the methods he and Belladonna were using. A double at this stage, according to the Roman Club System, would have indicated a shortage of spades instead of length, and Avarrell thus found himself hamstrung by the system.

Avarrell could have recovered after bidding a notrump had he bid two spades over two clubs, or had he gone to three notrump over two notrump, but he was apparently blown off course by the Mathe-Hamman bidding antics.

After the session was over, the Italian team tried to persuade Belladonna that a double of a spade in such a sequence ought to be treated as business, but Belladonna strongly defended the precepts of the Roman Club System, insisting that Avarrell should have bid two spades the second time around.

Coin To Honor 'Ike' Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — Minting of a one dollar coin to honor President Dwight D. Eisenhower has been approved by the House Banking Committee.

The committee approved a bill to authorize the issuance of coins, which would be of copper and nickel composition. Committee Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., said he will try to have the measure passed in time for the late president's birthday observance on Oct. 14.

The measure would also authorize the Treasury Department to remove silver altogether from half dollars, which now are 40 per cent silver and would permit the public sale of $3 million in rare silver coins at the current market value, which ranges up to $170 a coin.

Being Rich Has Its 'Little Drawbacks'

Dear Ann Landers: I was fascinated by the letter signed "Disappointed in Minneapolis." My heart just breaks for those rich folks who had to sell their dream house in the suburbs because they couldn't get anybody to shovel the snow, remove the screens and storm windows, do the gardening, paint the garage—etc., I wonder who she hired to lick the stamp.

"Minnie" was highly critical of "those lazy bums" who would rather be on welfare than earn an honest dollar. She points out that our forefathers didn't make this country great by sitting on their duffs. Yet she fails to explain why she and her husband sat on theirs—and ended up selling their dream house rather than do the work themselves.

My husband and I own a 12 room home on nine acres in a Boston suburb. We bought a snow plow and a motorized lawn mower. We do our own gardening and landscaping. We clean the swimming pool, keep the tennis court in shape and, I might add, all this physical exercise keeps US in shape. Work is a remarkable tonic for the soul and spirit as well as the body. If more people did their own work instead of hiring it done, this country would be infinitely healthier and happier.—Busy in Waltham

Dear Busy: Thanks for a splendid letter. Many people (mostly from New England) wrote to express a similar point of view, but you said it best.

Dear Ann Landers: Your advice to "Burnt Bernice" stank. When my mother-in-law comes over to my house and starts "straightening things," I do not appreciate her "help."

In fact, I interpret her sudden burst of energy as an attack on my housekeeping. The last time my mother-in-law attempted to "tidy up" my kitchen it took me a week to find the sieve. I am still looking for the tea strainer. Since you often use the phrase M.Y.O.B., why did you chicken out this time?—Disappointed

Dear Dia: M.Y.O.B. is an admonition reserved for interfering types. Your mother-in-law does not qualify. She sounds like a hyperthyroid, takeover dame who should be told in blunt language, "Mother-er-er—I'd rather do it myself!"

Dear Ann Landers: I am not long in your country so please excuse the bad English. For six years I am living with an executive who works for an American company in Rome. He is delaying marriage because his mother is very religious and I am a divorced woman. Raymond was sent to America for one year and I am with him as a visitor. I read in the Stamford, Connecticut newspaper where you help people with problems and I hope you will help me. Raymond and I love him deeply. But his habit of disappearing for several days at a time worries me greatly. I have heard it whispered that he has a weakness for young girls. I am 37. When I tell him if we were married I would feel more comfortable, he says I should not listen to gossip, that we are married in his mind and this alone matters. What are your thoughts on my situation?—Aldina

Dear Aldina: "Mind" marriages offer a woman very little security, especially when the man loses his mind for several days at a time. If it is really marriage you want, you must tell Raymond all or nothing — and be prepared to gamble.

Too many couples go from matrimony to acrimony. Don't let your marriage flop before it gets started. Send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Marriage—What To Expect." Send your request to Ann Landers in care of your newspaper enclosing 50c in coin and a long, stamped and self-addressed envelope, elated!

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed and stamped envelope.

Gains And Losses

When the Michigan Employment Security Commission met in Marquette in August, its officials presented a report on "Perspectives . . . Problems . . . Prospects" of the Upper Peninsula in which a population decrease of 5,000 was projected for the U. P. between 1960 and 1970. The projection showed a 1970 population of 301,000 for the Northern Peninsula, compared with 305,952 recorded in the 1960 census.

The report indicated that out-migration, largely the loss of young people, has exceeded the natural increase (the excess of births over deaths) by a wide margin in the past decade, accounting for most of the projected decline. According to the MESC report, about 35,000 residents will have migrated to other areas since 1960, or about one person in eight.

Four counties, the report stated, would have population gains between 1960 and 1970 — Marquette, Baraga, Menominee and Ontonagon. All of the remaining 11 counties in the Upper Peninsula would register declines.

Now comes another population projection report prepared by a couple of other state agencies, the Bureau of Planning and Program Development and the Bureau of the Budget. Its conclusions are diametrically opposed to those of the MESC report. Instead of a population decrease of 5,000 for the U.P., the report of the two bureaus projects an increase of 7,000 in the region's population from 1960 to 1970. Thus, instead of having a 1970 population of 301,000 as forecast in the MESC report, the Upper Peninsula will have a population of 312,949, if the later report is accurate. That's a net difference of almost 12,000, of course.

The average citizen might well wonder (1) why it was necessary for more than one state agency to go to the expense of making population projections for the state and (2) why, since more than one study was made, the findings didn't coincide with one another in the case of the Upper Peninsula. In other words, which study is to be believed?

The two reports do agree in some respects. Both predict that Marquette County will enjoy the largest population increase of any county above the Straits. The MESC report shows Marquette County increasing in population from 56,154 in 1960 to 62,000 in 1970. The other report is even more optimistic. It has Marquette County reaching a total of 69,981 by 1970.

Both reports also agree that Baraga, Menominee and Ontonagon Counties also will register gains in 1970 over 1960 (although the MESC report gives Menominee County an increase of only 15 persons in the 10-year period, while the other report is even more stingy, allowing the Peninsula's southernmost county only five more souls in 1970 than it had a decade before).

But whereas the MESC report predicts Chippewa County will lose population (from 32,655 in 1960 to 32,500 in 1970), the other report has Chippewa County gaining substantially (from 32,655 to 36,320). This is surprising in view of the planned closing of Kincheloe Air Force Base in Chippewa County next year.

The Bureau of Planning and Program Development and the Bureau of the Budget report envisions the Upper Peninsula with a total population of 363,877 in 1990 and increase of 50,928 from 1960, and states that most of that gain would take place in Marquette and Chippewa Counties.

Inflation Here Little Longer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Inflationary pressures appear likely to continue into next year despite a slowing down in the growth rate of the economy, a member of the Federal Reserve Board reports.

Given this prospect, said Andrew F. Brimmer, "I personally see no reason to deviate from the present course of monetary restraint," including high interest rates.

Brimmer said the cooling of the economy should continue through the last three months of 1969 and into 1970. But he added:

"At the same time, unfortunately, we may see very little lessening in inflationary pressures . . . Moreover, there appears to be a real prospect that inflationary pressures will persist on into the early months of next year."

Dropoffs late in 1969 are expected in business investments and spending by federal, state and local governments, Brimmer said in a 22-page report to the 16th annual bankers forum at Georgetown University. The depressed housing situation may even decline further, he added.

"Nevertheless," he said, "I think the task we face is so pressing that we should not run the risk of relaxing credit restraint until it is clear that we have a reasonable chance of making a noticeable dent in inflationary expectations."

At a news conference Friday, however, Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy said he thought "the next movement in interest rates will be down."

But he agreed with Brimmer that the time to relax antiinflation measures has not yet arrived.

Letters To The Press

SOME GOOD GUYS

We hear and read of the bad in teenagers. Now hear this about the good. If they deserve the bad publicity — they also deserve good publicity. Here is what happened in the area of the Ford River elementary school yesterday:

There are two basketball rebound boards installed in the grassy area in the rear of the school and never used by the children attending. In order to get use of these boards and give the students more playground equipment plus an opportunity to get interest in basketball, Principal Richard Shilney suggested if they could only be placed on the black top part of the playground (put there after the boards were installed) we could have somewhat of a basketball court.

To do this we would have to dig one hole at the end of the blacktop and the other in the blacktop 50 ft. away. To do the digging in the blacktop and a foot of gravel underneath plus another foot or so of sand was a difficult task. But with the aid of 5-6 neighborhood students of the Ford River school and a husky teen-

EMPTY CASE

It had never attributed the poll to Quayle — as, indeed, it hadn't. When Lindsay campaign lieutenant Richard Aurelio remonstrated with the editor of Women's Wear that the figures cited were not accurate, it could only have corroborated the existence of a poll. Women's Wear said it was willing to make a "correction" if "true figures" were supplied; otherwise it was standing by its statement, which had come from a source that had "never been misleading in the past."

So, that, at this moment of writing, is the status of the "mystery poll" that has had New York political circles buzzing with conjecture. Whether the poll is a phoney, or whether it must be regarded as "the poll that leaked," it is nonetheless figuring in the strenuous politicking that has dissipated New York's summer somnolence.

We'll soon know something about the probable New York balloting pattern when NBC gets the results of its own projected poll, and when the New York Daily News swings into action with its 30,000 straw votes.

But, really, do we need a poll to tell us that things are not going well for John Lindsay, the Liberal, or that John Marchi, the Republican-Conservative, has been moving ahead as the second place candidate at a time when the organization Democrat, Procaccino has been losing a bit of his once heavy lead?

Little things tell a curious story. Here we have Pete Hamill, the flaming liberal columnist of the liberal New York Post (who succeeded to liberalissimo Murray Kempton's space on the Post's editorial page), writing that "it is rapidly becoming clear that the most intelligent and impressive campaign being run in this town is the quiet campaign of John Marchi." Hamill hasn't said he'd vote for Marchi, but he likes Marchi's program for revising the City Charter to restore some power to the five New York Borough Presidents. (Sort of reminds Hamill of liberal Norman Mailer's primary campaign call for giving the government back to the neighborhoods on neighborhood matters.)

Then there is Jack Newfield's fundamentally approving statement that John Marchi's low-keyed and good-humored style suggests that of Eugene McCarthy. Strange, isn't it, that Newfield, one of the political specialists of New York's Village Voice, who is all for the "new politics," should be saying something intended as a compliment about any Republican or any Conservative?

Anything can happen in the New York City campaign. The news magazines, which have suddenly tumbled to the fact that only 1,600,000 New Yorkers live in the Borough of Manhattan as compared to 6,400,000 who struggle for a living in Queens, Brooklyn, the Bronx, and Staten Island, have at last begun to print stories that point out John Lindsay's peril. They aren't giving it to Procaccino, who scoffs at Lindsay's "limousine liberals" and the Manhattan "beautiful people," but they are certainly taking him seriously.

For myself, I want to go out on one more limb. I wrote columns last spring that gave Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles a very good chance of winning his election when all the polls said that the liberal Thomas Bradley had it in the bag. I also speculated on the likelihood as I saw it, that the unknown John J. Marchi would beat Lindsay in the Republican primary. Now my feeling is that Marchi may lead both Procaccino and Lindsay in November. Lindsay is suffering from the revulsion of the middle class against the idea that it should be made to pay for everything; Procaccino is, after all, a machine candidate. Doesn't this set it up for John Marchi to play it right down the middle to another astounding victory?

With the aid of my truck we were able to drag one of the posts, about 30 ft. to the hole in the blacktop but no matter how we all tried we could not lift it up so that it would drop into the new hole. The 4" steel pipe with the board and about 2' square cement anchored to the bottom representing about 1300 pounds of weight was too much so we left it there until we could get someone with equipment to set it in for us.

This morning when I came to work (7 a.m.) there was this pole setting upright and the hole well covered and packed down. Who did it? Mr. Shilney and I have inquired all around the neighborhood but no one knows. It had to be local teenagers driving around on the lot and it had to be at least a half-dozen or more to do the trick. Who ever they are Mr. Shilney and I would like to say thanks for your thoughtfulness. Believe me, it is appreciated. Boys will be boys and they grow some good ones around here.

Opening lead—ten of spades.

This deal occurred in the U.S. — Italy match in 1966. Nothing much happened at the first table, where the American North-South pair got to four spades on the bidding shown and made five for a score of 450 points.

But at the second table, where Belladonna and Avarelli were North-South for Italy, the bidding took a peculiar turn. As the result of a razzle-dazzle performance by the American East-West pair, the Italians wound up playing the hand at two notrump, making four for only 180 points.

The bidding went:

Mathe started the ball rolling when he opened with a heart on a bare 11 points, and Hamman added his contribution to the proceedings when he bid a spade over Belladonna's double.

It might appear that Avarelli should have doubled one spade in order to expose East's phony bid, but he was prevented from doing this by the methods he and Belladonna were using. A double at this stage, according to the Roman Club System, would have indicated a shortage of spades instead of length, and Avarelli thus found himself hamstrung by the system.

Avarelli could have recovered after bidding a notrump had he bid two spades over two clubs, or had he gone to three notrump over two notrump, but he was apparently blown off course by the Mathe-Hamman bidding antics.

After the session was over, the Italian team tried to persuade Belladonna that a double of a spade in such a sequence ought to be treated as business, but Belladonna strongly defended the precepts of the Roman Club System, insisting that Avarelli should have bid two spades the second time around.

Coin To Honor 'Ike' Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — Minting of a one dollar coin to honor President Dwight D. Eisenhower has been approved by the House Banking Committee.

The committee approved a bill to authorize the issuance of coin, which would be of copper and nickel composition.

Committee Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., said he will try to have the measure passed in time for the late president's birthday observance on Oct. 14.

The measure would also authorize the Treasury Department to remove silver altogether from half dollars, which now are 40 per cent silver and would permit the public sale of $3 million in rare silver coins at the current market value, which ranges up to $170 a coin.

DEADLINE FOR HAPPINESS

HYDERABAD, India. (AP)—Deputy Prime Minister Morarji Desai has predicted that India will be among the happiest countries within 20 years.

"We have the requirements of achieving happiness," he told a civic reception meeting. "Let us not be oblivious of the country's foundation, which is inner contentment."

Ann Landers

Being Rich Has Its 'Little Drawbacks'

Dear Ann Landers: I was fascinated by the letter signed "Disgusted in Minneapolis." My heart just breaks for those rich folks who had to sell their dream house in the suburbs because they couldn't get anybody to shovel the snow, remove the screens and storm windows, do the gardening, paint the garage—etc. I wonder who she hired to lick the stamp.

"Minnie" was highly critical of "those lazy bums" who would rather be on welfare than earn an honest dollar. She points out that our forefathers didn't make this country great by sitting on their duffs. Yet she fails to explain why she and her husband sat on theirs—and ended up selling their dream house rather than do the work themselves.

My husband and I own a 12 room home on nine acres in a Boston suburb. We bought a snow plow and a motorized lawn mower. We do our own gardening and landscaping. We clean the swimming pool, keep the tennis court in shape and, I might add, all this physical exercise keeps US in shape. Work is a remarkable tonic for the soul and spirit as well as the body. If more people did their own work instead of hiring it done, this country would be infinitely healthier and happier.—Busy In Waltham

Dear Busy: Thanks for a splendid letter. Many people (mostly from New England) wrote to express a similar point of view, but you said it best.

Dear Ann Landers: Your advice to "Burnt Bernice" stank. When my mother-in-law comes over to my house and starts "straightening things," I do not appreciate her "help." In fact, I interpret her sudden burst of energy as an attack on my housekeeping. The last time my mother-in-law attempted to "tidy up" my kitchen it took me a week to find the sieve. I am still looking for the tea strainer. Since you often use the phrase M.Y.O.B., why did you chicken out this time?—Disappointed

Dear Dis: M.Y.O.B. is an admonition reserved for interfering types. Your mother-in-law does not qualify. She sounds like a hyperthyroid, takeover dame who should be told in blunt language, a "Mother-r-r-r—I'd rather do it myself!"

Dear Ann Landers: I am not long in your country so please excuse the bad English. For six years I am living with an executive who works for an American company in Rome. He is delaying marriage because his mother is very religious and I am a divorced woman.

Auto Repair Work Target Of Senator

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said today at least one-third of all automobile repair work is done unsatisfactorily — and motorists are losing billions of dollars as a result.

Hart said studies and testimony before his Senate antitrust subcommittee indicate that as little as one per cent, or as much as 66 per cent of repair work is done properly.

Repair Unsatisfactory
"Accepting the highest figure, we have one third of all repairs being unsatisfactory," he said in a statement prepared for a new round of hearings on car repairs. "The loss to consumers runs into the billions, without giving a dollar amount to the frustration and inconvenience."

Furthermore, Hart said, faulty repairs contribute "to the carnage taking place on this nation's highways."

Hart said the panel has been told that 50 per cent of all automobiles, including new ones, have safety flaws.

Program Suggested
"It makes sense to me for industry and government to come up with a program for the licensing of automotive repair facilities and a national program for certification of automobile mechanics," Hart said.

He also recommended a joint effort to train skilled mechanics.

Hart said the evidence so far indicates that the cost of repairs is more directly affected by the price of parts than by labor expenses.

Some parts prices have gone up 64 per cent in the past decade, he said, promising the subcommittee will try to find out why.

Manuals Criticized
He also criticized flat rate repair manuals published by automobile manufacturers to set the time and money dealers will be allowed to charge the companies for work done under warranty.

Hart said those rates set the standard for repairs and charged they lead to slipshod work and higher prices.

Hart proposed that the insurance industry consider rating automobiles on the basis of repairability.

He said that might hasten the adoption of measures to cut down on accident damage.

The Hart subcommittee plans six days of hearings on automobile repairs.

Lady Marshal Never Gets Old

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — After 30 years on the job, San Diego County's first, only and last woman deputy marshal says with a wink that she'll retire when she reaches 60.

"That means I'll be working another 20 years," Marian Wade, 55, said with a laugh Friday as she received a sapphire pin recognizing her service.

Mrs. Wade was the first woman deputy marshal in the state and the only one in the county, Asst. County Marshal John P. Williamson said.

"Her position will expire when she retires," he said. "It is written in the state government code that Marian will be the last woman deputy for the county."

"They had one and that was enough," Mrs. Wade said.

Thieu Reports His Troops Set To Replace GIs

SARIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu said today the Vietnamese people "are determined to replace the bulk of the U.S. fighting units in 1970." But he added that all American troops cannot be withdrawn as long as North Vietnamese forces remain in South Vietnam.

Major Policy Speech
In a major policy speech to a joint session of South Vietnam's National Assembly and Senate, Thieu also said he thought that allied forces should remain in Vietnam as long as aggression threatens Southeast Asia.

C & NW Rail-Bus Service Schedule Changed Slightly

To improve service to northern Wisconsin and Upper Peninsula travelers, the Chicago & North Western Railway Co. is making adjustments in its coordinated rail-bus schedules from Green Bay to Ashland, and from Green Bay to Ishpeming.

Effective Oct. 8, daily buses to Ashland connecting with the streamliner train at Green Bay will leave the North Western station there at 4:40 p.m. — 10 minutes later than now scheduled. The train schedule is not affected.

The bus will make up the 10 minute difference en route, arriving at Ashland at the time now scheduled — 11:15 p.m.

Returning from Ashland, the bus will leave 5 minutes earlier — 9:50 a.m., instead of 9:55 a.m. The train will continue to leave Green Bay for Chicago at 4:40 p.m.

Minor adjustments in the schedules of the buses between Green Bay and Ishpeming are also being made.

Effective Oct. 8, the Green Bay to Ishpeming bus will leave the North Western train station at Green Bay at the now scheduled time of 4:35 p.m. but will arrive in Ishpeming 10 minutes later — 8 p.m. instead of 8:50 p.m.

Southbound, the bus will leave Ishpeming 10 minutes earlier — 11:55 a.m. instead of 12:05 p.m., arriving in Green Bay at the regular time of 4:15 p.m.

Both buses will continue to meet North Western trains at Green Bay. Appropriate bus schedule adjustments will be made at intermediate stations. No changes are being made in the train schedules.

Held In Theft

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont. (AP) — Two Detroit men are held at Niagara Falls, Ont., in connection with the theft of two rings valued at $1,500 from a jewelry store. Police have charged Jake Mansfield and Charles Geroski, both 33, with theft.

the 3rd Division boarded a troopship in Da Nang to sail for the United States, part of the 25,000 American troops being withdrawn before Dec. 15. Their departure leaves 484,000 American troops in Vietnam.

People Determined
"We, the Vietnamese people, are determined to replace the bulk of the U.S. fighting units in 1970," the president said in the official English translation of his speech.

"The most important thing is that the Free World and, first of all, the U.S. ally, should not let Vietnam fall into the Communist hands. And as long as the Communist aggressors from the North still remain on the territory of the Republic of Vietnam, the allied forces cannot withdraw from the Vietnamese territory."

"As long as peace with guarantees has not yet been restored in Vietnam and a new Communist aggression is still threatening this part of the world, I think that under whatever form, the Free World forces should remain on this land."

Thieu spoke for an hour and 18 minutes, the longest public speech he has made since he came to power.

More Aid Sought
He emphasized that he remains willing to negotiate an "acceptable" peace while determined to avoid a coalition government or surrender to the Communists.

He asked for increased American military and financial assistance to enable his government to shoulder more of the burdens of the war.

drawal, Hawk said, a key objective of Oct. 15 is to prepare for "an enlarged and lengthened moratorium for November."

The committee started out with minimal funds from Kennedy and McCarthy supporters. Now it is receiving as many as 1,000 envelopes a day — most bearing gifts. The money pays for buttons, bumper stickers, office rent, painting, and minimum subsistence salaries for the dozen or so regular moratorium staff members.

Volunteers Wander In
So busy is the office that nobody has stopped to count the money, or the volunteers who wander in daily to help with the mail and telephone calls.

"The volunteers began pouring in a week or so ago," said Peggy Shaker, the 21-year-old director of volunteer work. She is a slim, olive-skinned worker from Niles, Ohio, who was graduated from college in June and spent the summer looking in vain for a job with a liberal in Congress.

The atmosphere in the overheated warren of rooms is hectic and serious. But the mood is cheerful and friendly.

'On Being Black' Series Opens On Channel 6 Tonight

Music, plays and insights into social problems and culture make up this week's schedule of productions on Northern Michigan University's educational television station, WNMR-TV.

At 10:30 tonight "Wine in the Wilderness," a one-hour play and the first in a 10 part series entitled "On Being Black," will be shown. "The Forsythe Saga" makes its debut at 8 p.m. Thursday when "A Family Festival" shows as the first of 26 one-hour part installments.

This series became a "national obsession" in England, and is an adaptation of John Galsworthy's novels about the way of life of London's nouveau riche in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries.

In other shows on the WNMR-TV schedule, folk singer Judy Collins and the Don Ellis Orchestra headline NET Festival at 9 p.m. Tuesday in an hour-long program. And at 7:30 p.m., tenor saxophonist Bud Freeman and host, pianist Art Hodes recall the jazz scene of the 1920's with some memorable numbers.

At 7 p.m. Friday, Carmen McRae and the Stan Kenton Orchestra are some of the jazz artists who will be featured when NET's "Sounds of Summer" series visits the Concord Summer Festival, in a two-hour program.

This will be followed at 8 p.m. with the NET Playhouse production of "Ten Blocks on the Camino Real," an all-star showing of the original one-act version of Tennessee Williams' famous allegory.

Briefly Told
American Legion, Cloverland Post 82, will meet at 8 p.m. today at the legion clubhouse, 928 Lincoln Road.

Walkout At New Building Site

A labor dispute caused a one-hour work stoppage this morning at the construction site of Kananabe's new Senior Citizens Apartment Building.

The walk-out occurred when members of Local 1329 refused to work, because of what they called "Inglese Construction Company's failure to provide certain labor benefits."

There are a total of 60 workers involved in the dispute, among which are 40 skilled craftsmen and 20 laborers.

The men returned to their jobs shortly after the work stoppage on the promise that negotiations would continue over the dispute.

Fred LeClaire Dies Suddenly

Fred Joseph LeClaire, 74, 111 S. 10th St., Gladstone, died suddenly late Saturday afternoon at his camp after suffering a heart attack.

He was born Jan. 21, 1895 in Perkins and he had resided in Delta County all his life. He had been employed as a woodsman and logger. Mr. LeClaire was a member of All Saints Church.

He is survived by his widow, the former Maurie McDonald; his mother, Mrs. Cordelia LeClaire and one daughter, Mrs. Marcell (Donna) Verbrugghe of Perkins, five grandchildren and four brothers, Eugene of Bay View Location, Raymond of Perkins, Don and Elmer of Flint.

Friends may call at the Skradski Funeral Home after 4 p.m. today and parish prayers will be recited at 8 p.m. today. Funeral services will be conducted at 9 a.m. Tuesday at All Saints Church with Mgr. Matt LaViolette officiating and burial will be in Fernwood Cemetery.

Senate Refused To Eliminate The Line Jury System

The Senate refused to eliminate the line jury system. It also voted to give the jury a six-month life with a six-month extension. The House specified three months in each case.

Establishment of a youth services bureau in the Social Services Department, proposed by Sen. Lorraine Bocke, R-Dubuque, and approved by the upper chamber, ran into trouble in the House.

The Senate version called for a nine-member policy commission and a three-man parole and review board. The bill did not specify salaries or Civil Service status.

Governor Appointee
The House, however, voted for a seven-member policy and parole commission, appointed by the governor. Each member would receive $36,000, although Civil Service status was not specified. Some senators and representatives considered that salary too high, higher in fact than the pay of some department heads.

Legislators and staff aides declined to predict timetables for finishing these and other bills that once were offhandedly lumped together as "about a week's work."

But the odds and ends may be useful if tempers reach the flash point over education reform controversies.

Legislators then can cool off by working out differences in bills such as the one introduced by Rep. Raymond Smit, R-Ann Arbor. It would give the Natural Resources Department fire control authority in state forests.

Thieu Reports His Troops Set To Replace GIs

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu said today the Vietnamese people "are determined to replace the bulk of the U.S. fighting units in 1970." But he added that all American troops cannot be withdrawn as long as North Vietnamese forces remain in South Vietnam.

Major Policy Speech

In a major policy speech to a joint session of South Vietnam's National Assembly and Senate, Thieu also said he thought that allied forces should remain in Vietnam as long as aggression threatens Southeast Asia.

1,700 Marines Leave

As Thieu spoke in Saigon, another 1,700 U.S. Marines from the 3rd Division boarded a troopship in Da Nang to sail for the United States, part of the 35,000 American troops being withdrawn before Dec. 15. Their departure leaves 484,000 American troops in Vietnam.

People Determined

"We, the Vietnamese people, are determined to replace the bulk of the U.S. fighting units in 1970," the president said in the official English translation of his speech.

"The most important thing is that the Free World and, first of all, the U.S. ally, should not let Vietnam fall into the Communists' hands. And as long as the Communist aggressors from the North still remain on the territory of the Republic of Vietnam, the allied forces cannot withdraw from the Vietnamese territory."

"As long as peace with guarantees has not yet been restored in Vietnam and a new Communist aggression is still threatening this part of the world, I think that under whatever form, the Free World forces should remain on this land."

Thieu spoke for an hour and 18 minutes, the longest public speech he has made since he came to power.

More Aid Sought

He emphasized that he remains willing to negotiate an "acceptable" peace while determined to avoid a coalition government or surrender to the Communists.

He asked for increased American military and financial assistance to enable his government to shoulder more of the burdens of the war.

Juror System Left Alone

The Senate refused to eliminate the lone juror system. It also voted to give the jury a six-months' life with a six-month extension. The House specified three months in each case.

Scientists Develop Fruit, Butter Spread

EAST LANSING (AP)—If it's the maximum flavor of both," Hedrick explains. "But we experimented with different ratios and got a better blend of the two."

They've developed a cherry dairy product that will be easier to spread, require only one container—instead of a bowl for the butter and jar for the jelly—and, they say, give a better taste.

The new spread, so new that scientists say it could be six months before it is available at the market, comes in two types: one made primarily from butter and the other made from cultured cream with just a bit of butter to give it more firmness.

"By blending the flavors of the butterfat and the culture with the cherries or other flavors, we were able to get maximum flavor blend," says Dr. T. I. Hedrick, who developed the product with the help of Sue Wagner, an MSU food technologist.

Tech To Display Spitting Talent Against Purdue

HOUGHTON (AP)—Defending champion Purdue University will test its tobacco spitting talent against six other schools Saturday in the 18th annual Midwest Foresters Conclave at Michigan Technological University.

Host Michigan Tech has won five of the last nine competitions in which forestry students each have three "shots" at tobacco spitting targets placed 10 feet away.

Other events include log rolling, match spitting, chopping, log throwing, sawing and plant identification.

Other schools entered include the University of Michigan, the University of Illinois, Southern Illinois University, the University of Wisconsin, and the University of Minnesota.

H. Levesques Return From Trip To Italy

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Levesque of Wells have returned from a two week tour of Italy. They were joined in New York by 77 former members of the 361st Infantry Regiment who fought in Italy during WW II. The group left New York Sunday, Sept. 14 at 5:30 p.m. and they arrived in Rome at 8:30 a.m. Monday. A "Welcome Back to Italy" party was held at the Restaurant Mofoso in Rome on Monday evening. On Tuesday the group left Rome by motor coach, following the battle route of the 361 Division, with stops at Florence, Grosseto, Leghorn, Pontederia, Pisa, Bologna, Padova, Grado, Mestre and Venice. They also toured Naples, Pompei, Amalfi and Sorrento. Mr. Levesque noted many changes had taken place in the 25 years since he had been there.

Scientists Develop Fruit, Butter Spread

EAST LANSING (AP)—If it's cherry jelly and butter you like on your morning toast, you can look forward to a treat whipped up by Michigan State University scientists.

They've developed a cherry dairy product that will be easier to spread, require only one container—instead of a bowl for the butter and jar for the jelly—and, they say, give a better taste.

Six Months
The new spread, so new that scientists say it could be six months before it is available at the market, comes in two types: one made primarily from butter and the other made from cultured cream with just a bit of butter to give it more firmness.

"By blending the flavors of the butterfat and the culture with the cherries or other flavors, we were able to get maximum flavor blend," says Dr. T. I. Hedrick, who developed the product with the help of Sue Wagnetz, an MSU food technologist.

Better Blend
"When you put them on a cracker or piece of toast separately, it's very difficult to get

Tech To Display Spitting Talent Against Purdue

HOUGHTON (AP) — Defending champion Purdue University will test its tobacco spitting talent against six other schools Saturday in the 18th annual Midwest Foresters Conclave at Michigan Technological University.

Host Michigan Tech has won five of the last nine competitions in which forestry students each have three "shots" at tobacco spitting targets placed 10 feet away.

Other events include log rolling, match spitting, chopping, log throwing, sawing and plant identification.

Other schools entered include the University of Michigan, the University of Illinois, Southern Illinois champion Purdue University, the University of Illinois, the University of Illinois, the University of Illinois.

First Road Test Ends Up In River

LONDON (AP) — Mrs. Beatrice Park, who drove into a river while taking her driver's test, said today it was worth it if it made people laugh.

In a letter to the Daily Mail newspaper, Mrs. Park thanked well-wishers, saying: "If, among all these distressing news items, my little adventure was the means of causing a few hours of hilarious fun and laughter to many, then I can only say that it was well worth while and thank God that we both got out of it safely."

the maximum flavor of both," Hedrick explains. "But we experimented with different ratios and got a better blend of the two."

Hedrick says the cherry and sweeteners give the spread a taste "we believe will be very popular."

Consumer panelists who tied the spread agree.

More than 75 per cent of those who sampled the spread said they would buy it on the market. On a five-level scale—with "like very much" at the top—80 per cent of the panelists rated the spread in one of the top two categories.

Selected Panelists
The consumer tests involved specially selected panelists working with an MSU-Wayne State University program. Others were individuals attending marketing meetings called by the MSU Extension program or the agricultural economics staff.

Hedrick and Mrs. Wagnetz point out the spread is less fattening than plain butter or margarine—"the fat content is lower," he says—and that it spreads better than butter at cool temperatures.

Many Flavors
Hedrick also tried a variety of flavors mixed with butter and cultured cream, including spice cinnamon, lemon custard, orange and pineapple. And he says that many other combinations of flavors could be used for the product.

A cherry sauce topping for cottage cheese—one that seeps down through the curd like syrup poured over crushed ice—also is in the works at MSU.

Hedrick and fellow food scientist Pericles Markakis believe they've come up with just the right sauce consistency for the taste-tempting dish. If the product were any thinner, they say, it would soak through the cottage cheese to the bottom of the dish too rapidly. If it were any thicker it would just sit on top of the cottage cheese without mixing the flavors.

The sauce, they suggest, also could be used for topping on fruit salads, pies, cakes and other desserts.

Dear Young People:

The businessmen of today believe in good investments and they believe that American young people are among the safest investments. For this reason, they salute the 4-H Clubs of America during National 4-H Week.

Whether you live on the farm or in the city, you can learn by doing through 4-H. Now, during National 4-H Week, you should find out what 4-H has to offer you. It is worth your time.

4-H is more than a four-leaf clover and a project. 4-H is young people who learn to build for tomorrow. 4-H is you! Get an adult leader and organize a club.

If you are between 9 and 19, you can be a 4-H member. If you are over 19 you can serve the youth of America as a 4-H leader. No matter what your aim or interest, a place is waiting for you in 4-H. Explore the possibilities with the 4-H Extension Agent.

Parents, Five Kids All Back In School

HANCOCK — Mother and father starting as college freshmen together while all their five children go to school, the youngest entering kindergarten, makes the Norman Harju family a unique scholarly seven.

Natives of Michigan's north-most Keweenaw Peninsula, Norman and Sharon Harju, and children — Shari Lynn age 14, Dennis 13, Christine 11, Brian 7, and Kevin 5 — dwell at Centennial Location, a former copper mining section in Calumet.

Ma and pa started as fall freshmen at Suomi College, 20 minutes commuting distance to Hancock, the first delayed mother-father enrollees at the 73-year old college.

Was Copper Miner

When Sharon announced her plan for college, the oldest child said, "Enroll now Mother,

I want you to finish ahead of me."

At the opening of classes, Kevin insisted that he go to Suomi with mother. Only when the parents promised to take him for a family visit to college did he agree to kindergarten attendance.

Donald Harju's decision to enter college came after 13 years as a copper miner, half of that time underground in hard-rock mining, and seven years as a machinist for the Calumet Hecla Division of Universal Oil Products Copper Co. Abrupt cessation of mining in the area forced Norman to re-evaluate his life.

Donald began serious study at home and passed the general educational development tests, while Sharon completed high school adult education requirements through the intermediate school district.

Relearn To Learn

The Harjus were so stimulated by the educational opportunity to which they were forced by a circumstantial copper strike and management decision that they defiantly raised their hopes higher.

Sharon taught in four Head Start programs and became interested in teaching professionally. Norman's first goal, he said, "relearn to learn."

Loyal natives of the area, Donald, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Harju of Copper City, and Sharon, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Guy of Calumet, they chose a local college. They credit their courage and vitality in part to religion and are active members of the Faith (LCA) church, Robert V. Langseth, pastor.

Vocational Rehabilitation of Michigan, a local guaranteed bank loans, and Suomi's student aid have given scholarship help, said Sharon.

U.P. Copper Mines Complete Shutdown

LAKE LINDEN — Operators of struck copper mines here today shipped the last removable machinery from the mines to other operations throughout the company.

The Calumet Division of Universal Oil Products Co. shut the century-old Copper Country mines down earlier this year after striking miners refused their last offer. The strike has been in effect more than a year.

The Soo Line freight train which hauled the equipment away has made its last call at mines in Lake Linden, Hubbell and Calumet, company officials said.

In the mines' heyday, more than 50 freight cars hauled copper away each day.

Almost all the Calumet Division's 1,400 employees have been laid off. Only security personnel and a few maintenance workers remain.

Six Delta County Men Will Report For Induction

LANSING (AP) — Michigan draft boards have been asked to call up 906 men for induction into the army and marine corps during November. State Selective Service Director Arthur Holmes announced today.

It was the second lowest monthly draft call in Michigan this year, reflecting President Richard Nixon's decision to temporarily reduce the number of men inducted into the armed forces.

Upper Peninsula counties will furnish men as follows: Alger 1; Baraga 2; Chippewa 4; Delta 6; Dickinson 3; Gogebic 2; Houghton 2; Iron 0; Keweenaw 0; Luce 3; Mackinac 8; Marquette 2; Menominee 2; Ontonagon 2; Schoolcraft 1.

Golfer, U.P. Man Among Fatalities

By The Associated Press

The weekend offered beautiful pre-winter days to prolong the golfing season.

But golfer Elbert F. Morrison, 58, of Detroit, became one of the 20 weekend traffic fatalities Sunday when he was struck by a car on his way back to a Livonia golf course, having retrieved a hooked ball.

Four persons died in two separate multiple death collisions on Michigan highways.

A Chicago, Ill., couple, David Holcomb, 56, and his 57-year-old wife, Ruth, died in a pile-up on I 94 in Jackson. Lawrence R. Grizzle, 21, and Terry R. Deane, 22, both of Grand Blanc, were killed when their car ran off Fenton Road in Genesee County Saturday night.

Twenty-two persons were killed last weekend, and 21 the weekend before that.

The Associated Press weekend fatalities count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ends midnight Sunday.

Other victims so far reported included:

James A. Stagnotti, 23, of Ahmeek, a passenger in a pickup truck which swerved off U.S. 41 and rammed a house in Ahmeek in the Upper Peninsula Friday night.

Nixon Abdicates Inflation Fight, Humphrey Says

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said today that President Nixon has virtually abdicated his responsibility to fight inflationary wage and price hikes.

And, said the man who lost the presidential election to Nixon, White House policies aimed at slowing the economy to cool inflation threaten a drastic increase in unemployment.

"That's the old tried and tested Republican medicine guaranteed to produce a cure worse than the disease," Humphrey said in a speech for some 1,000 AFL-CIO convention delegates.

Humphrey, speaking to the labor group that was the main bulwark of his Democratic bid for the presidency, said Nixon is favoring bankers, corporations and his Southern political allies at the expense of the rest of the nation.

"Inflation, interest rates, civil rights, education, conservation, consumer protection, antitrust—you name it and the Nixon-Agnew administration has remembered his friends and forgotten the rest of us," Humphrey said.

"What we have witnessed in the past eight months is a virtual abdication of the President's responsibility—yes, even his duty—to take the lead in fighting inflation, in both prices and wages," he said.

Kennecott, U. S. Sign Agreement On Chile Copper

SANTIAGO, Chile — (AP) — The government has announced a landmark agreement with Kennecott Copper that will increase Chile's over-all revenue from copper by about a third.

Kennecott agreed to 40 cents a pound as the floor tax level for Chilean copper exports, anything copper fetches over that automatically goes to the government.

The price of copper on the London metals exchange, whose quotations both the government and private companies use here, is now about 55 to 60 cents a pound.

Alejandro Ffiales, Chile's minister of mines, announced the new agreement with Kennecott over the weekend.

Kennecott is a junior partner, with 49 per cent in Sociedad Minera el Teniente, owner of El Teniente, the world's largest underground copper mine. The Chilean government owns a controlling 51 per cent share.

The government reached a similar 40-cents-a-pound-agreement in principle with Anaconda when it negotiated the purchase of Anaconda's two biggest subsidiaries in Chile last June. Anaconda agreed, provided Kennecott did so too.

Coho Report Shows Anglers Need Luck

This weekend's look at the local coho fishing finds some anglers lucky, others not so lucky.

One of the lucky ones was Tom Cowell of Iron Mountain who caught the biggest coho taken so far from Little Bay de Noc. Tom's monster weighed a whopping 17 1/2 pounds and was caught trolling a spawnbag spinner combination.

Rapid River Report

The Department of Natural Resources (DNR), in cooperation with several local resorts, reported that 102 fishermen surveyed this weekend caught 27 coho and one steelhead while fishing Little Bay de Noc and the lower Whitefish River.

The report shows the coho averaging around 12 - pounds apiece. The vast majority of these fish have been caught on a silver Flatfish, reports Dave Johnson, district fish biologist for the DNR.

"Most of these fish are being caught between Garth Point and the Days River," Johnson said. He noted, however, that angler success was not very good.

"I personally believe there are more fish farther out in the Bay," he said. "Anglers should try trolling waters south of Gladstone and off Peninsula Point," he added.

Johnson also pointed out that fish found further out in the Bay would have more of a tendency to feed then salmon who have already started their spawning run.

Thompson Report

At Thompson, luck seems to play an even more important role in daily fishing success. In a Daily Press survey conducted Sunday in Thompson Bay a total of 15 coho were caught by 23 anglers surveyed.

This figure is deceiving due to the fact that 10 of the coho were caught by one boatload of fishermen. The lucky anglers said they came across a large school of salmon not far off shore and just kept cruising back and forth over them until they hit. The 10 coho weighed a total of 141 1/2 pounds. How's that for a nice catch?

Meanwhile, four other boats that spent much of the day trolling the bay picked up only two other fish. Wading anglers had even worse luck.

"I think it will be another week before things start to pick up," said one veteran Thompson angler.

Chart Planning Of Invest-Tours

Dozens of Upper Peninsula citizens involved in, or supportive of, the recreation industry are behind the U.P. Invest-Tours program set for next Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The event, bringing investors and recreation industry consultants from throughout the midwest to the U.P. for air and auto tours of the area, has been in the developmental stage for six months.

"Arrangements for the Marquette-centered general meetings, plus optional air tours, special trips and interviews, presents a coordinating problem that would blow the fuse on any computing machine," says tour chairman W. H. Treloar of Marquette.

These arrangements have been in the making for months by Treloar and the following members of his regional committee: William F. Wilson, executive manager, Operation Action-U.P.; Marquette; Robert Sayles, president, Upper Michigan Tourist Association, Newberry; Ken Dorman, Upper Michigan Tourist Association, Houghton; Russell Adams, Northern Michigan University, Marquette; Lee Meyers, executive director for the Upper Peninsula Committee for Area Progress, Escanaba; Al Malch, UPCAP, Escanaba; Ray Gummerson, Michigan State University district extension leader for resource development, Marquette; Jean Worth, retired editor, Escanaba Daily Press, Escanaba; James W. Gooch, regional director, MSU Continuing Education Service, Marquette.

The tour is sponsored by Operation Action-U.P. and the Upper Michigan Tourist Association, with support from the Upper Peninsula Committee for Area Progress.

Host group chairman for the Friday air and auto tours are Don Gerrie, Sault Ste. Marie; Harlan Larson, Marquette; Orrin Gruetzmacher, Menominee; Ralph Huhtala, Iron Mountain; George Ruch and Jean Worth of Escanaba; William Veeder and Douglas Rappley of Houghton; William Johnson and Andrew Bednar of Ironwood. Lincoln Frazier of Marquette is coordinating the Friday U.P. travel schedules. Participants will leave the Holiday Inn on Friday a.m. and return that evening, after stops and fly-over visits to most all sections of the Upper Peninsula.

Alfred France, Washington, D.C., federal co-chairman of the Upper Peninsula Great Lakes Regional Commission, will deliver the keynote address at Thursday evening's Marquette program, at which Jean Worth will be master of ceremonies. Others appearing on Thursday evening's program include James Scullion, Marquette Chamber of Commerce president, Sayles, Wilson, Treloar and Gummerson.

Speaking at Friday evening's banquet will be Louis Twardzik, East Lansing, professor and head of the Parks and Recreation Department, MSU. Treloar will function as master of ceremonies for the Friday evening program which will also feature presentations by Walker Cisler, chairman of the board, Detroit Edison Co. and co-chairman of Operation Action-U.P. and President John X. Jamrich of NMU.

Army Officers Rap Vietnam 'Killings'

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Army officer headed for a second tour as a battalion commander in Vietnam asked bitterly, "Why should I send men to be killed?"

This veteran soldier spoke of disillusionment, of pointlessness to a war he sees as going nowhere.

"If we were trying to win, it would be different," he said. "But we're just hanging on."

This infantryman's frustrations and doubts were echoed by other military professionals, all in private conversations. None would be quoted by name.

Shortage Of Officers

An admiral whose job gives him a wide-angle view of the military establishment said morale has overtaken money as the No. 1 problem in retaining younger officers.

The erosion of morale seems to be a compound of factors—a war that is essentially a holding action, repeated separations from families and resulting marital turbulence, the surge of antimilitary sentiment in Congress and the country.

The depths of this erosion cannot be measured, but it may be significant that officer resignations have been rising.

Resignations High

Air Force resignations were up nearly 50 per cent in fiscal 1969 over fiscal 1968. In the Army, officer resignations jumped about 14 per cent. The climb was smaller in the Marine Corps and Navy figures showed level, but the Navy is worrying about losing aviators and submariners.

"Many of my contemporaries with 15 and 16 years of service are packing it in," reported one decorated Army lieutenant colonel.

"Pride of profession has kept them going, but that pride is taking a terrible battering these days."

The services cannot afford a serious drain of younger officers particularly those who have gained experience and seasoning in the field and on staffs.

The problem is growing, too, so far as attracting junior officers is concerned, with a general forecast that the antimilitary climate will affect college ROTC noticeably this year.

Campus ROTC Hit

He recalled how, on a recent tour of ROTC units, one cadet told him: "General, you don't know how rough it is to wear a uniform on campus."

Gen. Leonard F. Chapman Jr., commander of the Marine Corps, recently voiced the resentment which is evident throughout the military at being tagged "hawks."

"I believe," he said, "that the true dove is born of battle. No one wants peace more than that young Marine rifleman on his 50th patrol or the Marine aviator flying his third helicopter medical evacuation mission in one day."

Beret Case No Help

Army officers are discouraged because, they say, the recent ugly Green Beret murder case in Vietnam has served to intensify an impression they fear is widespread—that U.S. military men are indiscriminate killers who ignore the rules of war.

Some officers complain that they are badgered by civilians whom they meet socially.

An admiral said that while vacationing recently people "came up to me and said, 'why did you military men make such a mess of Vietnam?'"

"I tried to make light of it, and replied, 'look, there's no blood on my hands, I just carry out policy,' but they didn't let up on me."

14 From Denmark Given New 'Eyes'

NEW YORK (AP) — A group of 14 blind men and women from Denmark left for home Sunday night with seeing eye dogs they received as gifts from the leader dog school in Rochester, Mich.

The group was brought here about six weeks ago under the sponsorship of Diadem, a non-profit organization devoted to the international exchange of handicapped persons.

While in Michigan, the seven men and seven women were trained to handle the dogs under day-to-day living conditions, including travel in heavy traffic.

Attitude Changes

Marshall M. Fredericks, co-founder of Diadem and a sculptor from Birmingham, Mich., said, "Their whole attitude has changed. When they arrived here, they were depressed, fearful and skeptical. Now they are full of ideas on how to lead more fruitful lives."

He said that before coming to this country a number of the men and women had been confined to their homes because they were afraid to go out on the streets alone. "Now they are talking about getting jobs, going fishing and shopping," Fredericks said.

Dogs Shipped Ahead

The dogs, were shipped ahead of the group earlier in the day on a Scandinavian Airlines System cargo plane and will await the arrival of their owner in Copenhagen.

The Danes took off from Kennedy airport at 8:50 on SAS Flight 912 for Copenhagen.

Rev. Fosdick Is Dead At Age 91

NEW YORK (AP) — The Rev. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, whose liberal voice was a pillar of American Protestantism for a half-century, is dead at 91.

Dr. Fosdick died Sunday in Lawrence Hospital in Bronxville, where he was taken two weeks ago with a heart condition.

As a preacher in the pulpit and a teacher at Union Theological Seminary, Dr. Fosdick was a leading spokesman for modernism and a target of fundamentalists, who often called him a heretic.

Dr. Fosdick retired in 1946 as pastor of the interdenominational Riverside church, but wrote and spoke publicly well into his 80s.

Millions listened to his "National Vespers" radio program each Sunday afternoon from 1927 to 1946 and read such books as "The Modern Use of the Bible" and "The Meaning of Prayer."

His challenge to the fundamentalists made Dr. Fosdick a public figure.

Father, 2 Others Drown; Boy Saved

BAY CITY (AP) — A 9-year-old Flint boy was rescued unconscious from Saginaw Bay and his father and two other persons apparently drowned Sunday after their fishing boat capsized.

Authorities said the rescue of Guile Conroy from the waters of the bay off Lake Huron sparked an intensive search.

The body of 15-year-old Ronald Listeman was recovered. Searchers sought Conroy's father, Joseph, and Listeman's father, Bernard, 42. The Listemans also were from Flint.

Guile Conroy is hospitalized in good condition.

"I wish to the Lord they'd gone hunting," sobbed Mrs. Blanche Bendall, 73, Listeman's mother. "Last night we were all playing cards when Joe said, 'If I ever fall in the water, I hope I go fast.' We all just laughed it off, but now look what happened."

Parents, Five Kids All Back In School

HANCOCK — Mother and father starting as college freshmen together while all their five children go to school, the youngest entering kindergarten, makes the Norman Harju family a unique scholarly seven.

Natives of Michigan's north-most Keweenaw Peninsula, Norman and Sharon Harju, and children — Shari Lynn age 14, Dennis 13, Christine 11, Brian 7, and Kevin 5 — dwell at Centennial Location, a former copper mining section in Calumet.

Ma and pa started as fall freshmen at Suomi College, 20 minutes commuting distance to Hancock, the first delayed mother-father enrollees at the 73-year-old college.

Was Copper Miner

When Sharon announced her plan for college, the oldest child said, "Enroll now Mother,

I want you to finish ahead of me."

At the opening of classes, Kevin insisted that he go to Suomi with mother. Only when the parents promised to take him for a family visit to college did he agree to kindergarten attendance.

Donald Harju's decision to enter college came after 13 years as a copper miner, half of that time underground in hard-rock mining, and seven years as a machinist for the Calumet Hecla Division of Universal Oil Products Copper Co. Abrupt cessation of mining in the area forced Norman to re-evaluate his life.

Donald began serious study at home and passed the general educational development tests, while Sharon completed high school adult education requirements through the intermediate school district.

Relearn To Learn

The Harjus were so stimulated by the educational opportunity to which they were forced by a circumstantial copper strike and management decision that they defiantly raised their hopes higher.

Sharon taught in four Head Start programs and became interested in teaching professionally. Norman's first goal, he said, "relearn to learn."

Loyal natives of the area, Donald, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Harju of Copper City, and Sharon, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Guy of Calumet, they chose a local college. They credit their courage and vitality in part to religion and are active members of the Faith (LCA) church, Robert V. Langstaff, pastor.

Vocational Rehabilitation of Michigan, local guaranteed bank loans, and Suomi's student aid have given scholarship help, said SEH.

U.P. Copper Mines Complete Shutdown

LAKE LINDEN — Operators of struck copper mines here today shipped the last removable machinery from the mines to other operations throughout the company.

The Calumet Division of Universal Oil Products Co. shut the century-old Copper Country mines down earlier this year after striking miners refused their last offer. The strike has been in effect more than a year.

The Soo Line freight train which hauled the equipment away has made its last call at mines in Lake Linden, Hubble and Calumet, company officials said.

In the mines' heyday, more than 50 freight cars hauled copper away each day.

Almost all the Calumet Division's 1,400 employees have been laid off. Only security personnel and a few maintenance workers remain.

Six Delta County Men Will Report For Induction

LANSING (AP) — Michigan draft boards have been asked to call up 906 men for induction into the army and marine corps during November. State Selective Service Director Arthur Holmes announced today.

It was the second lowest monthly draft call in Michigan this year, reflecting President Richard Nixon's decision to temporarily reduce the number of men inducted into the armed forces.

Upper Peninsula counties will furnish men as follows: Alger 1; Baraga 2; Chippewa 4; Delta 6; Dickinson 3; Gogebic 2; Houghton 2; Iron 0; Keweenaw 0; Luce 3; Mackinac 8; Marquette 2; Menominee 2; Ontonagon 2; Schoolcraft 1.

Golfer, U.P. Man Among Fatalities

By The Associated Press

The weekend offered beautiful pre-winter days to prolong the golfing season.

But golfer Elbert F. Morrison, 58, of Detroit, became one of the 20 weekend traffic fatalities Sunday when he was struck by a car on his way back to a Livonia golf course, having retrieved a hooked ball.

Four persons died in two separate multiple death collisions on Michigan highways.

A Chicago, Ill., couple, David Holcomb, 56, and his 57-year-old wife, Ruth, died in a pile-up on I 94 in Jackson. Lawrence R. Grizzle, 21, and Terry R. Deane, 22, both of Grand Blanc, were killed when their car ran off Fenton Road in Genesee County Saturday night.

Twenty-two persons were killed last weekend, and 21 the weekend before that.

The Associated Press weekend fatalities count began at 8 p.m. Friday and ends midnight Sunday.

Other victims so far reported included:

James A. Stagnotti, 23, of Ahmeek, a passenger in a pick up truck which swerved off U.S. 41 and rammed a house in Ahmeek in the Upper Peninsula Friday night.

This veteran soldier spoke of disillusionment, of pointlessness to a war he sees as going nowhere.

"If we were trying to win, it would be different," he said. "But we're just hanging on."

This infantryman's frustrations and doubts were echoed by other military professionals, all in private conversations. None would be quoted by name.

Shareage Of Officers

An admiral whose job gives him a wide-angle view of the military establishment said morale has overtaken money as the No. 1 problem in retaining younger officers.

The erosion of morale seems to be a compound of factors—a war that is essentially a holding action, repeated separations from families and resulting marital turbulence, the surge of antimilitary sentiment in Congress and the country.

The depths of this erosion cannot be measured, but it may be significant that officer resignations have been rising.

Resignations High

Air Force resignations were up nearly 50 per cent in fiscal 1969 over fiscal 1968. In the Army, officer resignations jumped about 14 per cent. The climb was smaller in the Marine Corps and Navy figures showed level, but the Navy is worrying about losing aviators and submariners.

"Many of my contemporaries with 15 and 16 years of service are packing it in," reported one decorated Army lieutenant colonel.

"Pride of profession has kept them going, but that pride is taking a terrible battering these days."

The services cannot afford a serious drain of younger officers particularly those who have gained experience and seasoning in the field and on staffs.

The problem is growing, too, so far as attracting junior offi-

14 From Denmark Given New 'Eyes'

NEW YORK (AP) — A group of 14 blind men and women from Denmark left for home Sunday night with seeing eye dogs they received as gifts from the leader dog school in Rochester, Mich.

The group was brought here about six weeks ago under the sponsorship of Diadem, a non-profit organization devoted to the international exchange of handicapped persons.

While in Michigan, the seven men and seven women were trained to handle the dogs under day-to-day living conditions, including travel in heavy traffic.

Attitude Changes

Marshall M. Fredericks, co-founder of Diadem and a sculptor from Birmingham, Mich., said, "Their whole attitude has changed. When they arrived here, they were depressed, fearful and skeptical. Now they are full of ideas on how to lead more fruitful lives."

He said that before coming to this country a number of the men and women had been confined in their homes because they were afraid to go out on the streets alone. "Now they are talking about getting jobs, going fishing and shopping," Fredericks said.

Dogs Shipped Ahead

The dogs were shipped ahead of the group earlier in the day on a Scandinavian Airlines System cargo plane and will await the arrival of their owner in Copenhagen.

The Danes took off from Kennedy airport at 8:30 on SAS Flight 912 for Copenhagen.

Rev. Fosdick Is Dead At Age 91

NEW YORK (AP) — The Rev. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, whose liberal voice was a pillar of American Protestantism for a half-century, is dead at 91.

Dr. Fosdick died Sunday in Lawrence Hospital in Bronxville, where he was taken two weeks ago with a heart condition.

As a preacher in the pulpit and a teacher at Union Theological Seminary, Dr. Fosdick was a leading spokesman for modernism and a target of fundamentalists, who often called him a heretic.

Dr. Fosdick retired in 1946 as pastor of the interdenominational Riverside church, but wrote and spoke publicly well into his 80s.

Millions listened to his "National Vespers" radio program each Sunday afternoon from 1937 to 1945 and read such books as "The Modern Use of the Bible" and "The Meaning of Prayer."

His challenge to the fundamentalists made Dr. Fosdick a public figure.

Father, 2 Others Drown; Boy Saved

BAY CITY (AP) — A 9-year-old Flint boy was rescued unconscious from Saginaw Bay and his father and two other persons apparently drowned Sunday after their fishing boat capsized.

Authorities said the rescue of Guile Conroy from the waters of the bay off Lake Huron started an intensive search.

The body of 15-year-old Ronald Listman was recovered. Searchers sought Conroy's father, Joseph, and Listman's father, Edward, 48. The Listmans also were from Flint.

Guile Conroy is hospitalized in good condition.

"I wish to the Lord they'd come home," said Mrs. Josephine Conroy, 78, Listman's mother. "Last night we were all playing cards when Joe said, 'I've got to go to the water, I hope I get it.' We all just laughed it off, but how look what happened."

Bolivia Rulers Plan Education Of The Masses

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — The revolutionary government of Bolivia is going to impose severe austerity, one of its leaders says, and at the same time make a start on a project to see that television reaches the poorer classes.

Education of the masses is a cornerstone of the regime that took over Sept. 26, Information Minister Alberto Bailey Gutierrez says, adding:

"We will bring in 40,000 to 50,000 television sets, free of duties."

Bolivian television is a fledgling project controlled by the government, and Bailey said it has been oriented to the privileged few who could afford sets.

Bailey, 39, is a former newspaper editor. He was the son of an American mining official and a Bolivian mother.

In an interview, he expressed hope that recent developments, including the South American trip by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, could "change the status of relations between the United States and Latin America."

"There is a new current in Latin America that is neither Socialist nor capitalist and this should be understood by the country to the north," he observed.

Bolivia's new government, headed by Gen. Alfredo Ovando Candia, is attacking problems in a leftist-nationalist vein.

4-H . . . For Tomorrow's Leaders . . . Today!

In Michigan, 4-H Club work is the major phase of Extension youth programs. The 4-H program is designed for young people between 9 and 18 years of age. They elect their own officers, conduct meetings, and work together. Young people benefit by both planning and evaluating their own projects and activities under the guidance of parents and volunteer leaders.

4-H training prepares our youth for better jobs, better farming and better homemaking careers . . . for better ways of working together . . . for being better Americans! Lend your support to this great program and to its more than 350 participants in the Schoolcraft area. Help present a "WORLD OF OPPORTUNITY" to these young people. Lions Nip Browns In Final Quarter By 28-21 Margin

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — "You can't make mistakes like we did and still win," Coach Blanton Collier said after four Cleveland Browns errors resulted in Detroit touchdowns and a 28-21 victory Sunday for the Detroit Lions.

"We had the chance to put the thing just about out of reach in the third quarter," Collier continued. "I think that field goal try certainly seemed to be the turning point of the whole game."

The Browns had taken a 21-17 halftime lead on two 23-yard touchdown passes from Bill Nelson to Gary Collins and a 21-yard pass from Nelson to Paul Warfield. They held the Lions twice on downs in the third quarter and marched to the Lions' 13-yard line.

On fourth down, Fred Hoaglin's center snap sailed over the head of kicker Don Cockcroft and the Lions' Mike Weger recovered at the Browns' 49-yard line.

Carol Mann Gets Tourney Victory

LAKE SAN MARCOS, Calif. (AP) — Carol Mann of Baltimore, leading money winner on the ladies' pro golf tour, fired an even-par 73 Sunday to win the $21,150 Mickey Wright Invitational Golf Tournament by two strokes.

It was a come-from-behind victory for Miss Mann, who had been tied with Kathy Aherne at 69 after Friday's round, then shot a 70 to fall two strokes back of the 20-year-old lass from Corpus Christi, Tex., on the Lake San Marcos Country Club course.

Miss Aherne, bidding for her first triumph in three years on the circuit, fell apart completely firing a 79 to wind up tied with Shirley Englehorn of Caldwell, Idaho, for fourth at 216.

Two strokes behind Miss Mann was Kathy Whitworth of Dallas, runner up in the money winnings battle. Third at 215 was Donna Caponi of Burbank, Calif. Judy Rankin of Midland, Tex., JoAnn Prentice of Columbia, S. C., and Mary Mills of Ocean Springs, Miss., tied for sixth at 218.

Cowboys, Rams Triumph; Keep Unbeaten Strings

By The Associated Press

The Philadelphia Eagles crashed into a Hill: The New Orleans Saints couldn't handle Snow in Los Angeles—and the Dallas Cowboys and Los Angeles Rams roll merrily along as the only undefeated teams in the National Football League.

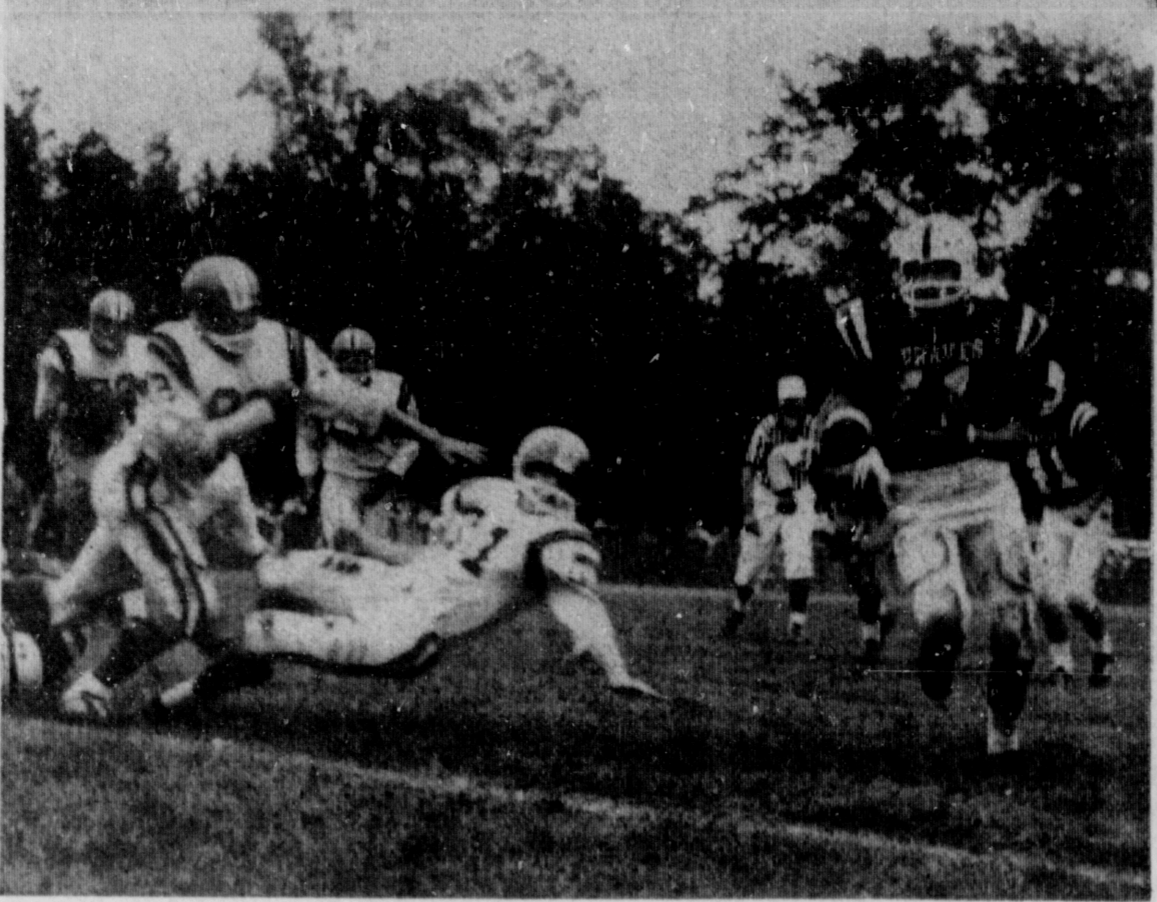

Rookie running back Calvin Hill of Dallas sat out the second half in Philadelphia Sunday because of an ankle injury. But by that time he had helped put the game out of the Eagles' reach.

Hill rushed for 91 yards and a touchdown, caught three passes for 71 yards and sparked a touchdown drive by completing a pass for 44 yards as the Cowboys built up a 28-7 halftime lead en route to a 38-7 victory that boosted their Capitol Division-leading record to 3-0.

Jack Snow shared three of Roman Gabriel's four touchdown passes as the Coastal division-leading Rams drubbed New Orleans 36-17 for their third straight victory.

Two other teams met their first defeats after two victories—Green Bay being beaten 19-7 by Minnesota and Cleveland 28-21 to Detroit.

Green Bay's loss left the Packers in a three-way tie for first in the Central Division with Minnesota and Detroit. Cleveland now shares first in the Cen-

Braves Get Victory In Homecoming Tilt

By MIKE UTT

GLADSTONE—Inspired second half play by the Gladstone Braves in their homecoming game at the Marble Athletic Field Saturday afternoon enabled them to romp to a 31-6 decision over the visiting Munising Mustangs for their fourth victory of the season.

The Braves held an 8-6 half-time lead but were outplayed by the Mustangs in the first half. Nick Eddy, plagued throughout his career by knee injuries, took over at halfback and halfback Mel Farr moved to fullback.

"This is a good combination," Schmidt said. Eddy ran for 55 yards in 11 tries, including a one-yard scoring run, and Farr picked up 64 yards in 19 tries, including the winning touchdown from two yards out.

"We've been trying to get them in the same backfield for a couple of years," Schmidt continued. "When Mel said he'd move over to fullback, we did it."

Both scored in the fourth quarter. Eddy's tally, tying the game at 21-21, following the recovering of a Nelson fumble on the Browns' 31-yard line by Joe Robb.

Farr's run was set up by Dick LeBeau's interception of a Nelson pass at the Browns' 44-yard line.

Another interception of a Nelson pass, this time by Weger at the Detroit 38, ended the Browns' hopes.

The Browns runners picked up only 79 yards in 25 attempts. Leroy Kelly returned to the line after missing most of two games with a pulled hamstring muscle, but was ineffective with only 16 yards in 10 carries.

The Detroit Lions have named Ed Flannigan and Mel Farr to captain the offensive unit and Alex Karras and Mike Lucic to head the defense.

Vikings Upend Packers In Defensive Struggle

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—The Minnesota Vikings pulled into a three way tie for the Central division lead here Sunday with a brilliant defense and a lot of help from the Green Bay Packers. The Vikings beat the Packers, 19-7 — their third straight victory over Green Bay, and in some ways the most disheartening of all.

Neither a good defensive job by the Packers nor a new formation on offense could blunt the charge of the Vikings.

This was a triumph for Minnesota's defense, and more particularly Carl Eller, the big defensive end. Minnesota's front four — with frequent and effective help from the linebackers — caught Bart Starr for losses while trying to pass eight times, the most humiliating day for Green Bay's blocking line since the Detroit Lions destroyed Starr in 1962 by catching him 10 times.

First Break
Minnesota's first break was one in which line judge Dick Jorgensen, the former University of Wisconsin basketball player, figured prominently.

Starr's run, after fading to pass, carried 13 yards to the Packer 49 yard line to set up the play. On second down, Starr threw a swing pass to Travis Williams, who was hit as the ball arrived. Many observers thought the pass was incomplete when Williams dropped it—a group including Packer Tackle Francis Peay, who didn't bother to fall on the ball, although he could have—but when Alan Page did land on the ball, Jorgensen gave the Vikings possession.

Kapp's 10 yard pass to John Beasley — thrown while Kapp wore Willie Davis like a scarf — earned a first down at the Packer 35, and on fourth down, Fred Cox kicked a 33 yard field goal for a 3-0 lead with 3 minutes 41 second left in the quarter.

Another Break
Minnesota made its next break almost immediately. On Green Bay's first play after the kick-off Jim Grabowski ran a draw play for seven yards. But then Eller hit him — hard — and the gain became a loss.

Eller drove Grabowski to the side, and before the Packer could fall, Bobby Bryant attacked the arm holding the ball. It popped loose, Paul Krause caught it and dove to the 24, and the Vikings were in business again.

Again they could not gain, but again Cox kicked a field goal, this one from 27 yards, and with 2:14 left in the quarter, Minnesota's lead had doubled.

Bad News
Green Bay's next bad news came in double doses, too.

With third and 28 on the Packer two—Eller had helped push Green Bay back that far, catching Starr for a seven yard loss. Then Dale was flattened just before the ball was thrown on a pass and Bryant intercepted, returning to the 11 yard line.

Worse, Packer tackle Forrest Gregg reacted to what was considered a late and unprovoked assault by the Vikings' Dale Hackbart by clouting Hackbart one, and getting himself thrown out of the game. Dick Himes now had the task of keeping Eller out of Green Bay's play patterns — a rugged assignment for many veterans.

Osborn Scores
A penalty for Gregg's indiscretion put the ball on the six, and Dave Osborn got it the rest of the way in two plays, three yards at a time. Cox kicked, and Minnesota was very close to control, the kind permitting the ball control the Vikings use so well.

Green Bay made its most threatening gesture of the game after getting the ball in the second half, but when the combat in the third period was ended, Minnesota had expanded its lead to 16-0.

The Vikings were pushed back six yards in their series, and Willie Wood returned Bob Lee's punt to the 50. He might well have gone farther, but he slipped.

Still, the Packers had field position, and they utilized it. Williams ran six yards and Grabowski eight. Then Starr threw 11 yards to Boyd Dowler, again at tight end in the absence of the injured Marv Fleming, to the 25.

Grabowski ran, and then Starr hit rookie John Spill for first down at the 13.

Reverse Drive
But there the drive stopped — indeed, went into reverse. Eller and Roy Winston caught Starr for an 11 yard loss to the 24, and Page got him for a 10 yard loss to the 34. On fourth down, Mike Mercer missed a 42 yard field goal.

McCarthy Sparks Wildcat Victory

MARQUETTE — A pair of third quarter touchdowns passes by quarterback Rich McCarthy sparked Northern Michigan to a 27-13 win over previously unbeaten Hillsdale College before a crowd of 6,200 here Saturday afternoon.

McCarthy's aeriels went to ends Mike Boyd and Mike Bee on plays of 28 and 67 yards midway in the third stanza after NMU had taken a 14-10 halftime advantage.

Hillsdale scored first, grabbing a 3-0 first period lead on a booming 50 yard field goal by soccer kicker Chet Marcol.

Northern went ahead early in the second quarter when Lonnie Holton capped an 80-yard drive in nine plays by diving in from the one.

But Hillsdale's Lou Guenther gathered in the ensuing kick-off and raced 99 yards down the right sideline to put the Chargers back in front, 10-7.

NMU scored what proved to be the winning points in the final minute of the first half on a Hillsdale miscue. A punt by Northern's Marty Brenner was touched by Hillsdale's John Seelye and bounded into the end zone where Pete Bovan recovered for an NMU touchdown. The play put Northern ahead to stay, 14-10.

McCarthy's two scoring pitches put the game out of reach, although Marcol, who attempted seven field goals, including one of 65 yards, connected on a 42-yarder in the final period.

McCarthy, who passed for 206 yards, raised his career total to a record — shattering 2,004. He left the game in the fourth quarter with a shoulder injury, but will return to action next Saturday at Central Michigan.

The win boosted the nationally-ranked Wildcats to a 3-1 record for the season. Hillsdale, which had a seven game victory string broken, is also 3-1.

Livingston Leads Chiefs To Victory Over Broncos

By The Associated Press

It's a long way from third string quarterback to starter but Mike Livingston, suddenly thrust into the spotlight by the Kansas City Chiefs, proved fit for the job.

More than fit, as the Denver Broncos saw it after Sunday's 26-13 American Football League loss.

Livingston, a product of Southern Methodist and the Chiefs' second-round draft choice last year, was hailed as the "best pro quarterback prospect to come out of Texas in years" by Texas Christian Coach Fred Taylor after he broke most of Don Meredith's passing records at SMU.

Little Chance
But Livingston, cast by the Chiefs into the shadows of Len Dawson and Jack Lee, had little chance until Sunday to show what he could do.

With Dawson and Lee sidelined by leg injuries, Livingston stepped in and completed 14 passes for 124 yards, more yardage than the combined figures for two Bronco quarterbacks, Steve Tensi and Pete Liske.

Livingston clicked on screen passes to fullback Robert Holmes and on longer throws to Otis Taylor and Fred Arbanas.

Record Field Goal
Jan Stenerud, the sensational soccer-style kicker, accounted for 12 Kansas City points with four field goals, one a 54-yarder for a Denver stadium record, as the Chiefs widened their Western Division record to 3-1 and the Broncos squared theirs 2-2.

Kansas City's touchdowns came on a 12-yard run by Warren McVea and a 60-yard dash by Jim Kearney with an intercepted pass.

In other AFL games, the world champion New York Jets, 2-2, beat Boston, 0-4, 23-14 and Houston, 3-1, whipped Buffalo, 1-3, 28-14.

In Saturday night games, San Diego, 2-2 trounced Cincinnati, 3-1, 21-14, and Oakland, 3-0-1, and Miami, 0-3-1, played to a 20-20 tie.

Namath Scores
Quarterback Joe Namath, his cranky knees showing no problems, passed for one touchdown and startled the Patriots by running four yards for another. Jim Turner kicked three field goals as the Jets snapped a two-game losing streak and evened their Eastern Division record 2-2.

Namath ran for his first six points of the season early in the third period on a third down situation by sweeping his left end to climax a 50-yard drive.

Miss Chance
The Oilers maintained their Eastern Division lead as quarterback Pete Beathard passed three yards to Roy Hopkins for one touchdown and ran four yards for another. The Oilers also scored on a 51-yard dash by Ken Houston with an interception and a one-yard plunge by Hoyle Granger.

Coach John Rauch said his Bills had a chance to win in the third quarter when Buffalo was at the one and failed to score as the Oilers defense threw the Bills back to the seven when Kemp passed incomplete on fourth down.

Buffalo rookie O. J. Simpson, who picked up more than 100 yards a week ago against Denver, was held to only 27 yards on 13 carries.

San Diego, a surprise 34-20 victim to Cincinnati two weeks ago, gained revenge at home as the Bengals dropped into a tie with Kansas City for second place in the Western Division.

Big Return
Fullback Brad Hubbert, an ex-Marine who was taken off the active list two months ago because of a knee injury, bulled his way back and scored all three Charger touchdowns. Hubbert was knocked out of action early last season because of the injury and was taken off the active list because he was slow recovering from surgery.

Hubbert gained 72 yards in 17 carries and became the first Charger runner to score three touchdowns in one game. Hubbert's running mate, Dick Post, gained 123 yards in 19 carries as the Chargers fulfilled Coach Sid Gillman's game plan.

Miami gained the tie on a 39-yard field goal by rookie Karl Kremser and the winless Dolphins viewed the outcome as a lift.

Lions Nip Browns In Final Quarter By 28-21 Margin

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — "You can't make mistakes like we did and still win," Coach Planton Collier said after four Cleveland Browns errors resulted in Detroit touchdowns and a 28-21 victory Sunday for the Detroit Lions.

"We had the chance to put the thing just about out of reach in the third quarter," Collier continued. "I think that field goal would have done it. That had passed from center on the field goal try certainly seemed to be the turning point of the game."

The Browns had taken a 21-17 lead on two 23-yard touchdown passes from Bill Nelson to Gary Collins and a 21-yard pass from Nelson to Paul Warfield. They held the Lions twice on downs in the third quarter and marched to the Lions' 13-yard line.

On fourth down Fred Hoaglin's center snap sailed over the head of kicker Don Cockroft and the Lions' Mike Weger recovered at the Browns' 49-yard line.

Carol Mann Gets Tourney Victory

LAKE SAN MARCOS, Calif. (AP) — Carol Mann of Baltimore, leading money winner on the ladies' pro golf tour, fired an even-par 73 Sunday to win the $21,150 Mickey Wright Invitational Golf Tournament by two strokes.

It was a come-from-behind victory for Miss Mann, who had been tied with Kathy Ahera at 89 after Friday's round, then shot a 70 to fall two strokes back of the 20-year-old lass from Corpus Christi, Tex., on the Lake San Marcos Country Club course.

Miss Ahera, bidding for her first triumph in three years on the circuit, fell apart completely firing a 79 to wind up tied with Shirley Englehorn of Caldwell, Idaho, for fourth at 216.

Two strokes behind Miss Mann was Kathy Whitworth of Dallas, runner up in the money winners battle. Third at 215 was Donna Caponi of Burbank, Calif. JoAnn Rankin of Midland, Tex., Judy Ann Prentice of Columbia, S. C., and Mary Mills of Ocean Springs, Miss., tied for sixth at 218.

Cowboys, Rams Triumph; Keep Unbeaten Strings

By The Associated Press

The Philadelphia Eagles crashed into a Hill: the New Orleans Saints couldn't handle Snow in Los Angeles—and the Dallas Cowboys and Los Angeles Rams roll merrily along as the only undefeated teams in the National Football League.

Rookie running back Calvin Hill of Dallas sat out the second half in Philadelphia Sunday because of an ankle injury. But by that time he had helped put the game out of the Eagles' reach.

Hill rushed for 91 yards and a touchdown, caught three passes for 71 yards and sparked a touchdown drive by completing a pass for 44 yards as the Cowboys built up a 28-7 halftime lead en route to a 38-7 victory that boosted their Capitol Division-leading record to 3-0.

Jack Snow shared three of Roman Gabriel's four touchdowns passes as the Coastal Division-leading Rams drubbed New Orleans 36-17 for their third straight victory.

Two other teams met their first defeats after two victories—Green Bay being beaten 19-7 by Minnesota and Cleveland 28-21 to Detroit.

Green Bay's loss left the Packers in a three-way tie for first in the Central Division with Minnesota and Detroit. Cleveland now shares first in the Cen-

Braves Get Victory In Homecoming Tilt

By MIKE UTT

GLADSTONE—Inspired second half play by the Gladstone Braves in their homecoming game at the Marble Athletic Field Saturday afternoon enabled them to romp to a 31-6 decision over the visiting Mustangs for their fourth victory of the season.

The Braves held an 8-6 halftime lead but were outplayed by the Mustangs in the first two periods. Mustangs racked up 106 yards rushing and 41 passing in the first half, but the Braves really came to life after intermission to hold them to just 39 yards passing and 41 rushing.

Mustangs struck first at the 8:02 mark of the first period after taking a punt at the Gladstone 44-yard line. They moved down field in six plays to score on quarterback Dave Wickstrom's four yard burst to paydirt. Wickstrom then tried to run for the two point conversion, but he was stacked up short of the end zone.

Goodman Receivers

After another exchange of the ball, Gladstone's Gary Goodman fell on the first of his two fumble recoveries of the afternoon on the 50-yard line and the Braves went down to score in eight plays.

Strong running by fullback Pat Cole highlighted the drive for the Braves before quarterback Cliff Young put the Braves on the scoreboard for the first time with a one-yard run. Gladstone then went ahead by two points when Young ran for the two point conversion.

The Braves managed to make the two-point lead hold until halftime as they stopped another Mustang drive at the 11-yard line when Goodman recovered his second fumble.

The Mustangs were forced to punt after failing to pick up a first down after the second half kickoff. Gladstone took over on its own 33 and moved downfield in 12 plays to score again at the three minute mark of the period. Young picked up 30 yards in the drive and passed for 27 yards to Lynn Apelgren for the touchdown. Young then kicked the extra point to put the Braves ahead by a 15-6 margin.

Big Break

Gladstone got a big break in the next series of downs as they once again forced the Mustangs to punt from their own 32-yard line. The center snapped the ball over punter Jim Grey's head and the Braves took over on the Mustangs four-yard line.

Running plays by Cliff Young and Cole put the ball on the one-yard line, where Gary Young bulled his way in for the touchdown. Bart Stupak then gave the Braves a 22-6 lead by taking a pass from Young for two points.

Nobody was gaining much, but a 43 yard pass interference penalty on Bob Starr — he grabbed Gene Washington — gave the Vikings another scoring chance, and when they couldn't advance, Cox raised the margin to 10-0 with a 41 yard field goal into the wind.

And early in the fourth period, when Cox's 23 yard field goal gave Minnesota a 19-4 lead, the game seemed all over but the bruising. That went on until the very end.

To combat the rush, the Packers took to running third down and long yardage plays — the way things were going, most third down plays did require long yardage — with Anderson in punt formation, and Starr in the position normally manned by the punt blocker.

The Packers saved the clock toward a consolation touchdown at the very end, and got it with five seconds left, when Starr threw to Dave Hampton for a seven yard score.

Hillsdale scored first, grabbing a 3-0 first period lead on a booming 50 yard field goal by soccer kicker Chet Marcol.

Northern went ahead early in the second quarter when Lonnie Holton capped an 80-yard drive in nine plays by diving in from the one.

But Hillsdale's Lou Guenther gathered in the ensuing kick-off and raced 99 yards down the right sideline to put the Chargers back in front, 10-7.

NMU scored what proved to be the winning points in the final minute of the first half on a Hillsdale miscue. A punt by Northern's Marty Brenner was touched by Hillsdale's John Sealey and bounded into the end zone where Pete Bovan recovered for an NMU touchdown. The play put Northern ahead to stay, 14-10.

McCarthy's two scoring pitches put the game out of reach, although Marcol, who attempted seven field goals, including one of 66 yards, connected on a 42-yarder in the final period. McCarthy, who passed for 306 yards, raised his career

Livingston Leads Chiefs To Victory Over Broncos

By The Associated Press

It's a long way from third string quarterback to starter but Mike Livingston, suddenly thrust into the spotlight by the Kansas City Chiefs, proved fit for the job.

More than fit, as the Denver Broncos saw it after Sunday's 26-13 American Football League loss.

Livingston, a product of Southern Methodist and the Chiefs' second-round draft choice last year, was hailed as the "best pro quarterback prospect to come out of Texas in years" by Texas Christian Coach Fred Taylor after he broke most of Don Meredith's passing records at SMU.

Little Chance

But Livingston, cast by the Chiefs into the shadows of Len Dawson and Jacky Lee, had little chance until Sunday to show what he could do.

With Dawson and Lee sidelined by leg injuries, Livingston stepped in and completed 14 passes for 124 yards, more yardage than the combined figures for two Broncos quarterbacks, Steve Tensi and Pete Liske.

Livingston clicked on screen passes to fullback Robert Holmes and on longer throws to Otis Taylor and Fred Arbanas.

Second Field Goal

Jon Stenerud, the sensational soccer-style kicker, accounted for 35 Kansas City points with four field goals, one a 56-yarder and a 50-yarder.

Coach John Rauch said his Bills had a chance to win in the third quarter when Buffalo was at the one and failed to score as the Oilers defense threw the Bills back to the seven when Kamp passed incomplete on fourth down.

Buffalo rookie O. J. Simpson, who picked up more than 100 yards a week ago against Denver, was held to only 27 yards on 13 carries.

San Diego, a surprise 24-20 victim to Cincinnati two weeks ago, gained revenge at home as the Bengals dropped into a tie with Kansas City for second place in the Western Division.

My Return

Fullback Brad Hubbard, an ex-Marine who was taken off the active list two months ago because of a knee injury, bulled his way back and scored all three Charger touchdowns. Hubbard was knocked out of action early last season because of the injury and was taken off the active list because he was slow recovering from surgery.

Hubbard gained 72 yards in 17 carries and became the first Charger runner to score three touchdowns in one game. Hubbard's running mate, Dick Post, gained 128 yards in 10 carries as the Chargers defeated Oakland 34-14.

Miami gained the tie on a 20-yard field goal by rookie Earl Kauter and the veteran Dolphins viewed the outcome as a tie.

Record Books Take Beating On Weekend

By The Associated Press

Records are made to be broken and apparently there's not much that college football defenses can do about it.

Pear Bryant pretty well summed it up after his Alabama team outlasted Mississippi 33-32 Saturday night.

"It was Mississippi doing so well offensively rather than us doing poorly on defense," he said.

26th-ranked Ole Miss completed a 38 of 52 for 436 yards and 19th-ranked Alabama's Scott Hunter connecting on 22 of 29 for 300, the two Southeastern Conference opponents set 20 offensive records—one national, seven SEC, nine Mississippi and three Alabama marks.

The national record was 55 completions, erasing the standard of 53 set by Texas-El Paso and New Mexico in 1967 and UTEP and Brigham Young in 1968.

Eighty-ranked Purdue and 17th-ranked Stanford put on another record-smashing show, with Purdue taking a 36-35 squeaker on five scoring passes and a game-winning two-point conversion toss by Mike Phipps.

Besides Mississippi and Stanford, the only losers among the Top Twenty in The Associated Press ratings were 13th-ranked Michigan and No. 14 Michigan State. The Wolverines yielded 34 points in the second period and fell before ninth-ranked Missouri 40-17 while Notre Dame's Joe Theismann passed for three touchdowns and scored one to beat the Spartans 42-28.

Backyard Win
Top-ranked Ohio State rolled over Washington 41-14 with Jim Otis scoring three times and Rex Kern twice. Sophomore Lyndell Mitchell ran for 123 yards, including a 54-yard TD, as No. 2 Penn State held off Kansas State 17-14.

Arkansas' Bill Montgomery and Chuck Dicus teamed up for two scores as the third-ranked Razorbacks turned back Texas Christian 24-6 and No. 4 Texas toyed with Navy 56-17, using its first-stringers less than half the game.

Clarence Davis rembled for 181 yards and Jimmy Jones threw three touchdown passes as fifth-ranked Southern California walloped Oregon State 31-7.

Georgia Ramps
Oklahoma, ranked sixth, was idle but Georgia, No. 7, crushed South Carolina 41-16, breaking open a 14-10 contest with 27 points in the final quarter.

Tennessee, No. 10, drubbed Memphis State 55-16 and UCLA, No. 11, blanked Northwestern 36-0 as Mickey Cusick scored on gallops of 61 and 75 yards.

John Reeves, Florida's super soph, threw his ninth and 10th scoring passes, both to Carlos Alvarez, as the 12th-ranked Gators defeated Florida State 21-4 and 16th-ranked Louisiana State crushed Baylor 65-9 in a game so one-sided that Andy Hamilton, a second-string back, scored four touchdowns.

West Virginia, No. 18, and Wyoming, No. 19, rolled to easy victories. The Mountaineers whipped hapless VMI 32-0, the Keydets suffering their third consecutive shutout, and the Cowboys pummeled Colorado State U. 39-3.

Offensive Displays
Other offensive displays were provided by Houston, which mauled Mississippi State 74-0 as Gary Mullins threw three touchdowns passes to Elmo Wright and Robert Newhouse gained 745 yards on the ground; Idaho's Steve Olson, who passed for 363 and five TDs in a 31-21 upset of Southern Mississippi; Auburn's Pat Sullivan, four scoring passes in a 44-3 rout of Kentucky; Cornell's Ed Mariano, 245 yards rushing despite a 21-7 loss to Rutgers; Steve Ramsey of North Texas State, who hurled his team lost to Drake 27-22; and Dennis Shaw of San Diego State, five TD passes in a 55-21 romp over San Jose.

Engadine scored early in the third quarter after taking a Brimley punt on the Brimley 34 yard line. Fullback Gus Fillman put the ball on the three two plays later with a 31-yard jaunt and scored on the next play. John Brown's kick for the extra point was blocked and Engadine held a 6-0 lead.

A short time later, Dick Letz recovered a Brimley fumble on the 20 and the Eagles drove down to the five before being stopped when a fourth down pass fell incomplete. Brimley took over there, but on the first play, Fillman broke through to spill Brimley's Reggie Robinson in the end zone for a safety.

Engadine's final touchdown came when Mike Kerridge intercepted a pass at the Brimley 19 and ran it back for the score.

Fillman paced the Eagle offensive attack with 104 yards rushing in 16 attempts while Ron Weger chipped in with 54 yards, also to 16 carries. As a team, the Eagles piled up 225 yards rushing but did not gain a thing passing.

Defensive standouts in the game for Engadine were Brown, Kerridge and Weger.

Wayne Connolly scored twice in the Wings' second-half exhibition contest and Pete Stenkowski picked up the tying tally.

Scoring for New York were Dave Balon, Jean Rastale and Bob Nevin.

The Wings close out their exhibition schedule Wednesday in Boston and open the regular season on Saturday in Detroit, hosting Toronto.

The Detroit pre-season record stands at 6-3-2.

Orioles Edge Minnesota Twice In Extra Innings

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL—

(AP) — Embattled Billy Martin, squeezed and pinched into a dark corner in the American League's championship playoffs, called on bumpy Bob Miller, a refugee from the Minnesota bullpen, to plug the hole today against the irrepressible Baltimore Orioles.

But the Orioles, holding a pat hand following their second sudden-death victory in the best-of-five series, didn't intend to let Martin's Twins off the hook.

"We've been down before and we've come back," Martin said Sunday at Baltimore after the Orioles nipped his club 1-0 in 11 innings on Curt Motton's run-scoring pinch single and the gutsy, three-hit pitching of Dave McNally. "It's been a matter of inches. Who knows? We can still tie it up and win."

The victory, 24 hours after Paul Blair beat Minnesota 4-3 with a 12th inning squeeze bunt, left the Orioles one step from the World Series as the East-West playoff shifted to the Twins' park.

Game three pitted Miller, a National League castoff and one-time relief specialist, with a 5-5 regular season record, against Jim Palmer, who topped a 16-4 comeback for the Orioles by hurling the American League's only no-hitter two months ago.

Miller, a 6-foot-1 right-hander, stepped into the breach for the Twins this year when injuries depleted Martin's starting alignment. He won five of six decisions as a starter and hurled the West Division title clincher on Sept. 22.

Palmer, a shutout winner over Sandy Koufax in the 1966 series—when he was just 20 years old—made a remarkable about-face for the runaway East Division kings after a two-year run of arm trouble.

"We're in good shape with Palmer going," Orioles manager Earl Weaver understated. "He's our best percentage pitcher."

If the third victory were to come any harder for the Orioles than the first two, they'd likely be an emotionally spent ball club going into the series.

Any more of these cliffhangers and I'm gonna have myself a heart attack," said big Boog Powell, who chugged home from second on Motton's two-out single in the 11th Sunday, breaking up a brilliant duvet between McNally and the Twins' Dave Boswell.

After McNally, who held the visitors hitless following Tony Oliva's leadoff single in the fourth, overcame a streak of wildness in the top of the 11th—two successive walks and a 3-0 count on Bob Allison—Powell drew a walk on four pitches to open the bottom half.

Brooks Robinson sacrificed, Dave Johnson was walked intentionally and Mark Belanger fouled out. Martin then lifted Boswell, who had given up seven hits and as many walks, and Motton batted for Elrod Hendricks against reliever Ron Perzanoski.

Motton, a reserve outfielder, lined a shot over second baseman Rod Carew's head into right center. Oliva came up with the ball on a short hop and fired off-balance to the plate.

The throw was a couple of feet up the third base line and Powell churned across the plate as the ball skipped past catcher George Mitterwald.

As the jubilant Orioles raced onto the field, Powell, whose momentum had carried him halfway to the backstop, turned and raced back to the plate. "I thought I touched it with my heel, but McNally was hollering his head off to go back, so I did," Powell said.

Mets Take 2-0 Lead In Pennant Playoff

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Mets were back in their own backyard today, looking to wrap up their National League playoff series with the Atlanta Braves and move on to their first world Series in their almost implausible eight-year history.

The Braves, on the other hand, were looking for a replacement for their unofficial mascot, Chief Noc-A-Homa—perferably someone who could throw-a-ball or catch-a-grounder after two games in which they looked like carbon copies of the old Mets.

The new Mets fashioned a 2-0 lead in the best-of-five playoff series during the weekend despite ineffective pitching by aces Tom Seaver and Jerry Koosman, making the most of 23 hits, five Braves errors and several mental mistakes for 9-5 and 11-6 victories.

That put the amazing Mets, who stumbled through seven years of ineptness before starting their rags-to-riches story this season, one step away from the frenzy that is certain to overtake usually staid New York City if the Mets win their first pennant.

In the first one Saturday, the 25-game winning Seaver was tagged for eight hits, including two homers and four doubles, in seven innings. But the Mets came through with a five-run eighth inning built on four unearned runs to win it.

Then, Sunday, Koosman was chased in the fifth inning after surrendering seven hits, including a homer and two doubles. But the Mets made the most of 13 hits, three Atlanta errors, an obstruction call and an uncovered base to put another away.

And that left little doubt that both the Mets and Braves were shocked by the turn of events that had completely altered the odds which had favored Atlanta's hitting against New York's pitching.

Aaron, who has hit 554 homers during regular season, plays in his career has hit one each of the two playoff games so far, giving Chief Noc-A-Homa an opportunity into his war dance in front of his teepee in left field.

But more than homer hitters, the Braves need people who can throw the ball accurately and can pick up a grounder.

A wild throw by first baseman Orlando Cepeda let the tie-breaking run score in the eighth inning of Saturday's game and throwing errors were added by Aaron and Cepeda in a three-run second inning and two-run third inning Sunday.

That helped the Mets build a 9-1 lead that proved insurmountable, and has created a major headache for Atlanta manager Lum Harris, who admits he is totally confused by the Braves' shoddy fielding.

That the Mets have been playing baseball, despite their ineffective pitching, is clear from the hitting statistics. Art Shamsky has collected six hits in nine trips and Tommie Agee, Cleon Jones and Ken Boswell all homered in Sunday's wild one that lasted 3 hours and 10 minutes.

In addition, the Mets found they could run on the Braves, stealing five bases—two each by Agee and Jones.

It was all enough to view the Mets as virtual shoe-ins, for almost everyone except Manager Gil Hodges, who managed to keep his voice fairly even as he assessed the two games so far: "Our boys, I think, are underrated as a hitting ball club," Hodges said. And he added: "I think we have played better defensive ball than the Braves."

No one can argue with either statement.

U.S. Golfers Win World Cup

SINGAPORE (AP) — Unlucky number 13 turned out to be a good omen for Lee Trevino and Orville Moody in the World Cup Golf Tournament here.

Trevino said the turning point was after the 13th hole as the pair won the 17th annual tournament over a field of outstanding world golfers, Sunday.

"The Taiwanese were playing badly and when we were six up after the 13th, I was sure we had it made," said the gregarious Trevino, who shot a record course 65 Sunday for a nine-under-par 275 on the par 71 Bukit course.

Moody had a final 69 for 277, giving the United States a team total of 552 for 72 holes on the 6,092-yard course.

Surprising Taiwan had held a two-stroke lead over the United States going into the final round under a broiling sun, but wilted under the charge of the tournament Americans.

Japan finished second in the team standings at 560, followed by Argentina, 561, with Taiwan—and equally surprising Thailand—tied at 562 for the fourth place.

Surly balding Argentine veteran Roberto de Vicenzo matched Trevino's course record six-under-par on the final round and took second in the individual standings at 276. He was followed by Hsieh Yung Yo of Taiwan, Moody and Surree Onshawm of Thailand, all at 277.

Wings, Ranoers Play To 3-3 Tie

NEW YORK (AP) — Two goals in the third period gave the Detroit Red Wings a 3-3 tie with the New York Rangers Sunday night in Madison Square Garden.

Wayne Connolly scored twice in the Wings' second-half exhibition contest and Pete Stenkowski picked up the tying tally.

Scoring for New York were Dave Balon, Jean Rastale and Bob Nevin.

The Wings close out their exhibition schedule Wednesday in Boston and open the regular season on Saturday in Detroit, hosting Toronto.

The Detroit pre-season record stands at 6-3-2.

'The Haig' Dies Sunday After Bout With Cancer

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) —

Charles Walter Haig, the father of modern professional golf and one of its most colorful stars on and off the course died of cancer about midnight Sunday. He was 76.

Haig had been in a coma about 10 days and he died in his estate here.

Haig underwent throat surgery in January 1967, third such operation since a cancerous larynx was removed in 1944.

One of "the Haigs'" last public appearances came in August 1967 when many of the great and near-great of golf gathered in this northwest Michigan resort for a testimonial sponsored by his local friends.

Among them was current star Arnold Palmer who, in a moving tribute to a man he idolized, said, "If it were not for you, Walter, this dinner tonight would be downstairs in the pro shop and not in the ballroom."

"The Haig," as he was reverently known throughout the golf world, was one of the first men in sport to earn more than a million dollars, of how he made it—and spent it—are legend.

Just under 6 feet, with wavy-shouldered features and hair combed down in the fashion of his era's motion idols, Haig won the U.S. Open in 1914, repeated in 1919 and finished in the money until his playing days were over.

He was the only man ever to win the Professional Golfers Association title five times or four times in a row. He won it in 1922, 1924, 1925, 1926, 1927.

In 1922, he became the first American-born pro to win the British Open with a victory that spelled the beginning of the end to British domination of the sport. He won that title four times.

Haig also whipped the legendary amateur Bobby Jones 12-up and 11-holes-to-play in a 72-hole match. It brought him the biggest purse ever won by a pro until then—$7,800. He bought Jones a $1,000 watch.

Although the triumph seemed to establish "The Haig" as world champion, he shrugged off the label. He said the match showed only that a champion could beat another champion on any given day if one was "up" and the other wasn't.

Haig was regarded as the best shotmaker in golf and was never happier than when behind and in trouble. It gave him the chance to pull off shots that made a gallery gasp and he revelled in it.

Born in Rochester, N.Y., Haig was introduced to golf as a caddy.

He left the game 40 years later the close friend and playing partner of presidents and kings, grateful he had shunned a promising career in major league baseball.

Haig is regarded as the man who opened country club doors to the men who play for pay at a time when professionals were tolerated, not lionized.

Haig was 21 when he captured his first U.S. Open. He later added victories in the British Open in 1922, 1924, 1926 and 1929 and in the prestigious Western Open in 1916, 1921, 1926 and 1927.

After his competitive playing days ended, Haig directed operations of the Haig Golf Co. in Grand Rapids until 1945 when the firm became a division of Wilson Sporting Goods Corp.

Until his death he took part in conferences on design and new products.

In 25 years of competition "The Haig" began a new legend almost every time he swung a club—or hoisted a drink, which vied with squirting lovely ladies as his favorite hobby besides golf.

It wasn't a drink to Haig. He called them "hypoconics" and relates in his autobiography that he often stopped for a quick one as he came off the 10th green in the 36-hole championship matches he rarely lost.

Campaign Set To Free Hoffa

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Teamsters Union attorney said Sunday that a nationwide Free Hoffa Committee is launching a campaign — complete with bumper stickers — to get imprisoned union President James R. Hoffa out on bail.

"A lot of rank and file Teamsters are asking, 'Why isn't Jimmy Hoffa free on bail?'" said Robert Morgan, counsel an Western states chairman of the newly formed committee.

Morgan said the committee, operating in 32 cities, would raise money for bail and legal representation and would distribute more than one million bumper stickers reading "Free Hoffa."

Hoffa, 56, is serving two concurrent jail sentences at the Lewisburg, Pa., federal penitentiary — eight years for a 1964 jury tampering conviction and five years for defrauding a Teamsters pension fund. He is appealing the jury tampering conviction on grounds that illegal government wiretapping and electronic eavesdropping secured his conviction.

"We feel (the appeal) will be successful," said Morgan. "But in the meantime we believe he has the vested right to bail."

The U.S. Parole Board denied parole to Hoffa Thursday. He becomes eligible to be freed Nov. 6 after serving one third of his sentence.

Morgan said he will present a bail petition to U.S. District Court Judge Frank W. Wilson in Chattanooga, Tenn., on Nov. 4, hoping to have Hoffa bailed out by mid-April in time to participate in contract negotiations with several large trucking firms.

He said his petition for bail will be based on a section of the Federal Rules of Criminal Procedure which permits persons convicted of crimes to be released on bail pending final disposition of their cases.

Sunday Sales Set

CHICAGO (AP) — Sears, Roebuck & Co. has announced that 150 of its 821 retail stores throughout the nation will be open for business on Sundays during November and December.

A spokesman said the stores which will be open on Sunday have not yet been determined.

Briefly Told

A traffic court summons was issued by City Police to Joseph E. Juneau, Gladstone Rte. 1, for disobeying a traffic signal.

Legion meeting — A regular meeting of August Mattson Post, American Legion will be held tonight at 7:30 at the Legion Hall.

Gladstone City Police are investigating two complaints of thefts. Stolen was a citizens band radio from a truck parked in the Bero Implement, Inc., lot; and heavy duty batteries and lights from city equipment parked near the Eaton Yale & Towne plant.

4-H meeting — Enrollment for 4-H Club work will be held at 7 p.m. this evening at the James T. Jones School multipurpose room. An enrollment fee will be charged. All prospective members, who must be at least nine years of age, must be accompanied by a parent in order to be eligible to enroll.

Special Limited Enrollment Period Ends Midnight, SATURDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1969

Now...for people of all ages — $100.00 a week extra cash income when you go to the hospital!

AT LAST, HERE IS A PLAN THAT ACTUALLY PAYS YOU: ■ extra cash up to $10,000 ■ extra cash from your first day in hospital ■ extra cash direct to you ■ extra cash to use any way you want to ■ extra cash in addition to Medicare or any other insurance!

Act Now—GET FIRST MONTH'S PROTECTION FOR ONLY $1

Money back in full if not 100% satisfied. No age limit. Join NOW—This Introductory Offer lasts only 5 more days.

NOW... you and your family can join this Extra Cash Income Plan with no red tape, no questions to answer, no medical examination, no age limit, without having to see a salesman and without any qualifications whatsoever. But you must mail your Enrollment no later than Midnight, Saturday, Oct. 11, 1969

Why You Need This EXTRA CASH Plan In Addition To Ordinary Hospitalization And Medicare

You know, of course, that the tremendous jump in hospital costs has forced millions who already have hospitalization to dig into savings or go into debt. Even with Medicare, they risk using up their savings or, worse yet, turning to family and friends for help. In fact, very few people have enough savings, hospitalization or income to cover the TOTAL cost of being sick or injured.

How long could you stay in the hospital without worrying about the pile-up of daily expenses? Who will pay for the expenses of costly X-rays, doctor bills, drugs and medicines? And how about the expenses at home—rent, food, telephone and others that just go on and on? With expenses like these, could you avoid having your savings wiped out and your family life upset?

Better Safe Than Sorry

Wouldn't it be comforting to know these problems could be solved by your Extra Cash Income Plan—the plan that gives you $100.00 a week—IN CASH—tax-free—from the very first day you're in the hospital for up to 100 full weeks.

PAYS YOU CASH

...$100.00 a week tax-free cash from first day in hospital!

PAYS YOU CASH

...to a maximum of $10,000.00 for any hospital stay lasting 100 weeks!

PAYS YOU CASH

...Money mailed direct to you—not to the doctor or hospital!

PAYS YOU CASH

...in addition to hospitalization, Medicare and Workmen's Compensation!

Even If You Are Over 65 This Extra Income Plan Pays You Cash in Addition to Medicare and Other Insurance!

An absolute must now that YOUR share of hospitalization costs has increased 10% under Medicare! Even though Medicare will pay most of your hospital expenses, it just can't cover everything. Your Extra Income Plan helps solve this problem by paying $100.00 a week, in cash, direct to you, for as long as 100 weeks... and gives you the privilege of spending this money any way you want to. With your total benefit amounting to $10,000.00 you'll never have to turn to your children or charity. You'll keep your financial independence and enjoy the peace of mind that this Plan's EXTRA CASH will give you.

Absolutely NO LIMIT On Age

This Plan welcomes you no matter what your age is—and without any qualifications whatsoever! Even if you're over 75 you're still eligible... provided, of course, that you fill in and mail the Enrollment Form with just ONE DOLLAR during this limited enrollment period.

EXTRA CASH Gives Peace Of Mind And Security, Helps Replace Lost Income

Everything costs more these days. (Who knows better than you?) Hospital costs alone have TRIPLED in just a few short years... and they're expected to DOUBLE soon. While 7 out of 8 Americans have some hospital insurance, most find that benefits simply don't cover ALL the bills that mount up when sickness or accident strikes.

Union Fidelity created this low-cost Hospital Income Plan to help cover your UNCOVERED expenses while hospitalized... to put EXTRA CASH in your hand for bills from the doctor, the surgeon, the nurse, the druggist or anyone else who provides service and treatment you need and want. You may even have enough left over to help REPLACE any income you lose because of your confinement.

And remember: Your EXTRA CASH is paid direct to you... and you use it any way you want to.

These Are The Only Exclusions!

The new Union Fidelity "Extra Income Hospital Plan" has NO WAITING PERIODS. It covers you immediately for every possible kind of sickness and accident except, of course, hospitalization caused by mental disorders; act of war; pregnancy, childbirth or miscarriage; or care provided in a government hospital. It even covers you for any chronic ailment or pre-existing condition after your policy has been in force for only 2 years, EVERYTHING ELSE IS COVERED!

Special $1.00 Offer Expires Midnight of Date Shown On Coupon Below!

To introduce you to this remarkable new Plan we make this unusual offer with a Money-Back Guarantee. Just fill in the Enrollment Form on this page and mail it with just $1 before Midnight of the Expiration Date. A full month's protection will go into effect on the very day we accept your Enrollment Form.

When you receive your policy, take your time to examine it carefully. It's written to be easy to understand. There is NO FINE PRINT. Show it to any trusted advisor—your doctor, your lawyer, your clergyman. In fact, show it to your own insurance man... even though he probably works for another insurance company! If he is a personal friend, he wants what is best for you. So you can believe him when he tells you there is no better value available anywhere.

Even then, if you're not completely satisfied, return the policy within 30 days and your money will be cheerfully refunded with no questions asked. However, if you decide to continue this worthwhile protection, you may do so at these low rates:

65-74	only $6.80
75 and over	only $9.10

NOTE: The regular Monthly Premium shown here (for your age at time of enrollment) is the exact amount you will continue to pay for the life of your policy. It will never increase because you pass from one age bracket to the next! It won't even change because of frequent claims or the amount of money you collect. It can change only if there is a general rate adjustment affecting all policies of this type in your state.

How Can We Offer All This Protection for So Little?

If you're lucky, you can buy ordinary insurance at any time and pay regular rates. But NOW—with just a stroke of your pen—you can get Union Fidelity's $100.00 a week ($14.28 per day) Extra Cash Income Plan for the special low cost of only $1.00 for the first month. And how is this possible? BECAUSE UNION FIDELITY ENROLLS A LARGE NUMBER OF PEOPLE AT ONE TIME... direct by mail. This highly efficient "mass enrollment" cuts our costs to the bone. We are able to issue thousands of policies in a few short days. By this method our overhead expenses are reduced drastically. And the savings are passed on to you!

18 Important Questions Answered

That tell you how Union Fidelity's $100.00-A-Week Extra Cash Income Plan gives you the protection you need—at amazingly low cost!

1. How much will this policy pay me when I go to the hospital?
You will receive $100.00 per week.
2. When will my hospitalization benefits start?
The day you enter the hospital.
3. Will I be paid if I am in the hospital for less than a full week?
Yes. This new Plan pays if you are in the hospital for only a day, or a week, a month, a year.
4. Does this policy have any "waiting periods" before I can use it?
No. It will go into force on the same day we accept your completed Enrollment Form and $1.00 premium for the first month's coverage.
5. How long will I continue to receive my Extra Cash?
For every day you are hospitalized for as long as 100 weeks for every covered accident or sickness.
6. Is there any red tape to join?
No. We only ask you to complete and mail your Enrollment Form before the deadline date shown. No questions to answer. No salesman will call.
7. Suppose I collect benefits for a certain sickness or accident. What happens if I am hospitalized again for the same condition?
You go back to collecting your $100.00 a week until you've been hospitalized for a total of 100 weeks and have collected $10,000.00. Then, if the same condition puts you back in the hospital after you've resumed your normal activities for six months, you become eligible to receive $100.00 a week again, for up to 100 additional weeks. Any new condition will be covered immediately, of course.
8. How may I use these benefit payments?
You may use them any way you wish—for hospital and doctor bills, rent, food, household expenses or anything else. You alone decide how to use the money.
9. Why do I need your Extra Cash Plan in addition to my other insurance?
Chances are your present hospital insurance won't cover all your hospital and medical expenses. Even if it did, you will still need extra cash to cover all your household expenses.
10. May I join if I am over 65?
Yes. You are welcome to join no matter what your age is. This Plan has no age limit.

11. Can you drop me? Can you raise my rates?
No. Your policy is GUARANTEED RENEWABLE FOR LIFE. We will never cancel or refuse to renew your policy for any reason whatsoever as long as you make your premium payments on time. Also, we guarantee that we will never adjust your rate unless we take the same action with regard to all policies of this type in your state. You, of course, can drop your policy on any renewal date.
12. What is not covered by this policy?
The only conditions not covered are hospitalization caused by mental disorders; act of war; pregnancy, childbirth or miscarriage; or care provided in a government hospital. You are even covered for any chronic ailment or pre-existing condition after your policy has been in force for only two years. Everything else is covered.
13. Can other members of my family take advantage of this special offer?
Yes. Just add their names to the Enrollment Form when you fill it in.
14. Why is this offer good for a limited time only?
Because by enrolling a large number of people at the same time our underwriting, processing and policy issue costs can be kept at a minimum. These savings, of course, are passed on to you.
15. Do I need a medical examination or a statement from my doctor?
Definitely not. Just fill in the Enrollment Form and send it off today with $1.00.
16. What other advantages are there of joining this Plan now?
By joining now you do not need to complete a regular application—just the brief form in the lower right-hand corner of this page. Also, during this enrollment period, there are no other qualifications—no "waivers" or restrictive endorsements can be put on your policy.
17. How does the Money-Back Guarantee work?
Examine your policy carefully in the privacy of your home. If for any reason you are not completely satisfied, return it within 30 days and we will promptly refund your money. Meanwhile, you will be protected while making your decision.
18. How do I join?
Fill in the brief Enrollment Form (be sure to sign your name) and mail it with just $1.00 for the first month's protection to: Union Fidelity Life, 104 South Main Street, Fond du Lac, Wis. 54935.

But you must mail your Enrollment no later than Midnight, Saturday, Oct. 11, 1969

Why You Need This EXTRA CASH Plan in Addition to Ordinary Hospitalization and Medicare

You know, of course, that the tremendous jump in hospital costs has forced millions who already have hospitalization to dig into savings or go into debt. Even with Medicare, they risk using up their savings or, worse yet, turning to family and friends for help. In fact, very few people have enough savings, hospitalization or income to cover the TOTAL cost of being sick or injured.

How long could you stay in the hospital without worrying about the pile-up of daily expenses? Who will pay for the expenses of costly X-rays, doctor bills, drugs and medicines? And how about the expenses at home—rent, food, telephone and others that just go on and on? With expenses like these, could you avoid having your savings wiped out and your family life upset?

Better Safe Than Sorry

Wouldn't it be comforting to know these problems could be solved by your Extra Cash Income Plan—the plan that gives you $100.00 a week—IN CASH—tax-free—from the very first day you're in the hospital for up to 100 weeks.

PAYS YOU CASH
PAYS YOU CASH
PAYS YOU CASH
PAYS YOU CASH

...$100.00 a week tax-free cash from first day in hospital!
...to a maximum of $10,000.00 for any hospital stay lasting 100 weeks!
...Money mailed direct to you—not to the doctor or hospital!
...In addition to hospitalization, Medicare and Workmen's Compensation!

Even If You Are Over 65 This Extra Income Plan Pays You Cash in Addition to Medicare and Other Insurance!

An absolute must now that YOUR share of hospitalization costs has increased 10% under Medicare!

Even though Medicare will pay most of your hospital expenses, it just can't cover everything. Your Extra Income Plan helps solve this problem by paying $100.00 a week, in cash, direct to you, for as long as 100 weeks... and gives you the privilege of spending this money any way you want to. With your total benefit amounting to $10,000.00 you'll never have to turn to your children or charity. You'll keep your financial independence and enjoy the peace of mind that this Plan's EXTRA CASH will give you.

Absolutely NO LIMIT ON Age

This Plan welcomes you no matter what your age is—and without any qualifications whatsoever! Even if you're over 75 you're still eligible... provided, of course, that you fill in and mail the Enrollment Form with just ONE DOLLAR during this limited enrollment period.

EXTRA CASH Gives Peace Of Mind and Security, Helps Replace Lost Income

Everything costs more these days. (Who knows better than you?) Hospital costs alone have TRIPLED in just a few short years... and they're expected to DOUBLE soon. While 7 out of 8 Americans have some hospital insurance, most find that benefits simply don't cover ALL the bills that mount up when sickness or accident strikes.

Union Fidelity created this low-cost Hospital Income Plan to help cover your UNCOVERED expenses while hospitalized... to put EXTRA CASH in your hand for bills from the doctor, the surgeon, the nurse, the druggist or anyone else who provides service and treatment you need and want. You may even have enough left over to help REPLACE any income you lose because of your confinement.

And remember: Your EXTRA CASH is paid direct to you... and you use it any way you want to.

These Are The Only Exclusions!

The new Union Fidelity "Extra Income Hospital Plan" has NO WAITING PERIODS. It covers you immediately for every possible kind of sickness and accident except, of course, hospitalization caused by mental disorders; act of war; pregnancy, childbirth or miscarriage; or care provided in a government hospital. It even covers you for any chronic ailment or pre-existing condition after your policy has been in force for only 2 years. EVERYTHING ELSE IS COVERED!

Special $1.00 Offer Expires Midnight of Date Shown On Coupon Below!

To introduce you to this remarkable new Plan we make this unusual offer with a Money-Back Guarantee. Just fill in the Enrollment Form on this page and mail it with just $1 before Midnight of the Expiration Date. A full month's protection will go into effect on the very day we accept your Enrollment Form.

When you receive your policy, take your time to examine it carefully. It's written to be easy to understand. There is NO FINE PRINT. Show it to any trusted advisor—your doctor, your lawyer, your clergyman. In fact, show it to your own insurance man... even though he probably works for another insurance company! If he is a personal friend, he wants what is best for you. So you can believe him when he tells you there is no better value available anywhere.

Even then, if you're not completely satisfied, return the policy within 30 days and your money will be cheerfully refunded with no questions asked. However, if you decide to continue this worthwhile protection, you may do so at these low rates:

FORM 469

Age at Enrollment	Monthly Premium
0-18	only $2.50
19-39	only $3.50
40-54	only $4.50
55-64	only $5.50
65-74	only $6.50
75 and over	only $9.10

NOTE: The regular Monthly Premium shown here (for your age at time of enrollment) is the exact amount you will continue to pay for the life of your policy. It will never increase because you pass from one age bracket to the next! It won't even change because of frequent claims or the amount of money you collect. It can change only if there is a general rate adjustment affecting all policies of this type in your state.

How Can We Offer All This Protection for So Little?

If you're lucky, you can buy ordinary insurance at any time and pay regular rates. But NOW—with just a stroke of your pen—you can get Union Fidelity's $100.00 a week ($14.28 per day) Extra Cash Income Plan for the special low cost of only $1.00 for the first month. And how is this possible? BECAUSE UNION FIDELITY ENROLLS A LARGE NUMBER OF PEOPLE AT ONE TIME... direct by mail. This highly efficient "mass enrollment" cuts our costs to the bone. We are able to issue thousands of policies in a few short days. By this method our overhead expenses are reduced drastically. And the savings are passed on to you!

After the first month you continue your protection at Union Fidelity's low monthly rates. And bear this in mind: the rate you pay now will never be increased because of changes in your health or age—nor will your benefits ever be reduced!

A Nationally Respected Company

As important as the cash income itself, the low cost and ease of enrollment, is this one vital fact: Your policy is backed by the resources, integrity and national reputation of Union Fidelity Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia, an old line legal reserve company licensed in 49 states and Washington, D.C.

Easy To Join—No Red Tape—No Salesman Will Call

Join NOW. During this limited enrollment period there are no qualifications whatsoever... but you must mail the Enrollment Form BEFORE the Midnight deadline. We will issue your "Extra Income Hospital Plan" and put it in force the very same day we receive your Form.
